SWEDISH SCIENTIST SVANTE PAABO WINS MEDICINE NOBEL

The coveted award was for Paabo's discoveries on the genomes of extinct hominins and human evolution

EVOLUTION RESEARCH PROVIDED KEY INSIGHTS

Paabo's discoveries on human evolution provided key insights into our immune system and what makes us unique. Through his pioneering research, he accomplished "something seemingly impossible: sequencing the genome of the Neanderthal, an extinct relative of present-day humans," a release from the Nobel Assembly at Karolinska Institutet read

HE CREATED A NEW SCIENTIFIC DISCIPLINE

- His research also spawned a new scientific discipline called paleogenomics. "By revealing genetic differences that distinguish all living humans from extinct hominins, his discoveries provide the basis for exploring what makes us uniquely human," it added
- Paabo's father Sune Bergstrom had won medicine Nobel in 1982

Minor boy put through nude worship ritual in Hubballi

AMIT S UPADHYE @ Hubballi

In a shocking incident, a 15-year old boy from Koppal was forcefully made to perform a banned religious practice called 'Bettalu Seve' (nude worship) in Hubballi in June 2022. The accused stripped the boy's clothes, shot a video of the ritual and uploaded it on social media after which his family members filed an FIR with the Koppal Rural Police Station on October 2.

Koppal Superintendent of Police (SP) Arunangshu Giri told The New Indian Express, "We have arrested all three accused in the case. Our initial probe reveals that the accused were trying to perform black magic which is banned as per law. The accused have been booked under Protection of Child Rights Act and some sections of the Indian Penal Code (IPC). It's an inhumane act. An inspector level special officer has been appointed to investigate the matter further."

However, according to a relative of the victim, the three accused performed the 'ritual' out of revenge against the boy's father who had taken a loan from them and a few others to construct a house and was not able to repay it on time.

The accused told the boy that if he performed nude worship, his family would be out of financial problems. Moved by the plight of his family's financial situation, the boy agreed to go with the accused to Hubballi and work for them at a pipeline laying work site in Timmasagara village.

The accused are Sharanappa Talawar (39), Virappanagowda Gowdra (41) and Sharanappa Ojanahalli (43).

Made-In-India Light Combat Helicopter joins Air Force fleet

MAYANK SINGH @ Jodhpur

THE Indian Air Force on Monday inducted its first unit of the indigenous Light Combat Helicopters (LCH) at the Jodhpur airbase in Rajasthan. Christened Prachand, the LCH at present contains about 45% indigenous content by value, which will progressively increase to over 55% in future versions.

An LCH unit comprises 10 made-in-India multirole attack helicopters.

The induction ceremony was presided over by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh in the presence of the Air Chief V R Chaudhari. Rajnath Singh said, "The LCH is capable of dodging the enemy, carrying a variety of ammunition, and delivering it to the site quickly."

Air Chief Marshal Chaudhari said since Jodhpur is housing the first unit of the indigenous LCH, its personnel "have been specially selected based on their professional competence".

The Cabinet Committee on Security in March this year approved the procurement of 15 LCH Limited Series Production at a cost of ₹3,887 crore along with infrastructure worth ₹377 crore. Of these, five LCHs are to be inducted into by the Army.

The helicopter is powered by a twin Shakti engine and has a range of 500 km and a maximum speed of 268 kmph. It is compatible for high-altitude deployment with the capability to take off and land about 5,000 metres. The weapons onboard include Air to Air Missile Mistral 2, Anti Tank Guided Missile Dhruvastra, and 70 MM Rockets.

Speaking on the occasion, HAL CMD (additional charge) C B Ananthakrishnan said the machine has been tested in various conditions, including high altitude and cold climate in Siachen. It has clocked 2,034 flights and 1,500 hours of flying so far.

In all, 95 helicopters are expected to be inducted into the IAF and around 65 in the Army. The IAF is yet to finalise the number of LCHs to be procured. These choppers may replace the ageing Russian Mi-25 and Mi-35 attack choppers.

Deployment by Army along LAC

In June this year, the Army inducted its first LCH squadron in Bengaluru. It will be moved to the Eastern Command for deployment along the Line of Actual Control next year, sources said

Iran flight hoax bomb call: IAF scrambles Sukhois

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A bomb scare aboard a Tehran to Guangzhou flight from Iran on Monday while it was in Indian airspace led to the scrambling of IAF fighter jets, but the alert turned out to be fake.

Private airliner Mahan Air's flight W581 had entered Indian airspace from Pakistan when the alert was triggered. The alert originated from Tehran. The call first went to the Karachi ATC, which rerouted it to the Delhi ATC.

Mahan Air said, "Our Airbus 340 passenger plane was travelling from Tehran to Guangzhou in China, and as the pilot learned about the possibility of an in-flight bomb, he informed authorities. The Mahan operation control centre discerned that the threat was fabricated and the flight continued its journey in full safety." The IAF scrambled a couple of Sukhois fighter jets from its airbases in Punjab and Jodhpur in Rajasthan and followed due protocol to escort the plane.

The flight path of W581 (above); and FlightRadar24 data (right) shows it flying in circles a couple of times above Rajasthan and once near Narnaul in Haryana before continuing its journey to Guangzhou

In its statement, the IAF said, "On 03 October 2022, intimation was received of a bomb scare on an airline bearing Iranian registration, when it was transiting through Indian airspace. IAF fighter aircraft were scrambled, which followed the aircraft at a safe distance."

While there was a buzz that the Mahan Air pilot sought to land in Delhi, the flight was first offered the option to land at Jaipur and then at Chandigarh. The pilot hovered over the Rajasthan airspace for a while but was unwilling to divert to either of the two airports, the Air Force added.

By then, Iran had determined that it was a hoax call and requested the Delhi ATC to disregard the bomb scare. The aircraft then continued on its journey towards its final destination in China.

Apparently seeking to link it with the domestic unrest in Iran, Mahan air said, "It seems that reports of a bomb onboard the plane during current international and domestic conditions were aimed at disrupting security and peace of mind."

The aircraft was under IAF radar surveillance till it left the Indian airspace.

CBI detains Russian who 'hacked' JEE Main exam software

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE CBI on Monday claimed it has blown the lid off a widespread racket that includes a Russian national who allegedly hacked into the computer systems of Joint Entrance Examination (Main) candidates last year to facilitate aspiring students to get admission to top NITs.

The investigative agency's sleuths questioned the Russian national, identified as Mikhail Shargin, after he arrived at IGI airport from Almaty in Kazakhstan. Shargin was detained by the Bureau of Immigration after it acted on a Look Out Circular issued against him some time ago.

CBI sources said Shargin appears to have tampered with iLEON—the platform on which the JEE (Main) exam was conducted—and helped others in hacking the computer systems of candiates. After accessing the computers remotely, they would solve the question papers while the students, who allegedly paid ₹12-15 lakh each for the 'service', would pretend to be writing the exam.

The CBI, which has been probing the case since September 2021, found that three directors of Affinity Education Pvt Ltd — Siddharth Krishna, Vishwambhar Mani Tripathi and Govind Varshney — in conspiracy with other associates and touts has been manipulating the JEE (Main) examination.

Lakhs of people from different parts of the country and even abroad are expected to witness the event which marks the victory of good over evil during the nine-day Navaratri festival which culminates on the last day of Vijayadashami. Officials at Government Urdu Primary School at Medi Agrahara distribute regularisation certificates to house owners (Inset) A woman shows her certificate

When certificates trigger tears of joy

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

UNDER the supervision of the Supreme Court appointed Justice AV Chandrashekar Committee, a total of 1,214 regularisation certificates have been issued till October 3 on behalf of the Bangalore Development Authority. The document is an okay for the buildings in the upcoming Dr K Shivarama Karanath Layout.

TNIE visited the Government Urdu Primary School at Medi Agrahara in Yesvantpur Hobli, which has been the epicentre of joy for house owners since May 13, the day the first certificate was handed over.

KS Choodamani, a retired tahsildar, now working for the committee, religiously leaves home for work every day, collects these certificates from the BDA head office at 9am, and arrives at the school before 10am so that no family is made to wait. "This document simply means the world to those receiving them. Most villagers remove their footwear, collect the certificate reverentially and thank me with folded hands. They bless me immensely before leaving. An owner even brought tulsi leaves and placed it on them before collecting it last week," she says.

Oomen George, a machine operator in a private firm, who bought 1,600 sqft of land at Guniagrahara village and built his house in 2004, said, "I have visited the BDA many times for help, but nothing changed. There were protests, and I even hired a lawyer, but we lived in anxiety for many years. The Supreme Court has saved our necks."

The committee staffers go out of their way and call up house owners to ensure that those eligible do not miss the vital document.

A young couple, both working in MNCs, were overwhelmed after receiving their certificate. With joyful tears, Sowmya JK says, "The whole process was made easier from the first day as the staff were guiding us. This is our first investment after marriage, and we are elated to know that our house is now safe." Sandesh D said the process was extremely smooth. "It is so well-structured, and beats any corporate firm. We did not have to run around in the BDA office. The certificate almost came to our doorsteps."

Comed-K counselling before CET worries students about admission in govt colleges

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

EXECUTIVE Director of Karnataka Examination Authority (KEA) Ramya S said that they will ensure that students are not penalised if they forgo a private college seat for a seat in government college.

With the Comed-K counselling process beginning before that of the Karnataka Common Entrance Test (KCET), students are perturbed that they might have to choose expensive private colleges rather than government colleges due to the delay in KCET counselling process.

Various organisations and students had appealed to KEA and the state government to intervene and postpone the Comed-K counselling process till the process for KCET begins. With the appeals in vain, KEA has assured that students will not suffer.

"We will ensure that students do not face any issues if they give up their seats in government colleges. We are also ensuring that the final round of Comed-K counselling will take place only after the KCET counselling process has started," Ramya said, and added that the overlap of students taking on Comed-K who had undertaken the KCET was minor.

REPRESENTATIVE PICTURE

Ramya S, Executive Director KEA

"There are two lakh students for KCET from Karnataka, and around 25,000 undertaking Comed-K, of which the focus is mostly from outside Karnataka," she said.

However, the All India Democratic Students Organisation (AIDSO) state vice-president Apoorva said that this would not resolve the issue. "The solution would be to halt the Comed-K counselling until KCET begins," she told TNIE.

Bengaluru lad denied boarding Lufthansa flight over transit visa

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE family of 23-year-old Neel is distraught as he couldn't board his flight at Bengaluru to join his first job as chef at a Michelin-starred restaurant in Glasgow. Lufthansa airline staff stopped him at Kempegowda International Airport, insisting he should have a transit visa along with the UK visa, as the flight passes through Frankfurt.

Neel's business class ticket cost Rs 65,000 for travel on September 26. The family is forced to shell out Rs 1 lakh now, and book another ticket on British Airways.

His mother Kiran Kalra, an international fashion curator, told TNIE, "It was not highlighted anywhere on the website at the time of booking the ticket on September 6, that the Schengen visa was mandatory. The flight has a two-hour stopover at Frankfurt airport, and passengers continue their trip by Lufthansa only. If this was the case, then ticket booking should not have been allowed to go through. It was not just my son but at least ten others in the queue behind him with Business Class tickets who were also not allowed to go through for the same reason," she said.

REPRESENTATIVE PICTURE

It was not highlighted anywhere on the website, that the visa was mandatory. Booking should not have been allowed to go through if visa was must

Neel Kalra, passenger

"I am trying to bring the issue into the limelight to create awareness, so that other families don't suffer like us," Kalra said.

Having completed his graduation in Culinary Arts from Le Cordon Bleu, Neel got the job offer. "It is an incredible opportunity as not many Indians get their first job in a Michelin-starred restaurant," Kalra added.

Due to the late night flight schedule, no call centre could be reached in India over the issue. Kalra called up the airline's US call centre where the first executive claimed there was no need for a transit visa! When the issue was highlighted, the call was abruptly cut.

When Lufthansa staff in Bengaluru were approached by the family for options the same night, they suggested rebooking the ticket for a later date on the airline, so the ticket amount did not go waste. "We were not sure if the Schengen visa would come through, so we opted to book an airline which only requires a UK visa," she said. Lufthansa could not be reached for comment.

Vendors blame flooding, rain for pricey flowers

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

WITH the Dasara festivities and the customary practice of offering puja to 'Ayudhas', flower vendors said that the rates of jasmine, lillies, marigold have multiplied. A kilo of jasmine now costs Rs 1,000, lillies Rs 300, and marigold Rs 120.

GN Diwakar, President, KR Market Flower Merchant Association, told TNIE that the rate of flowers have almost doubled as the crops were damaged during heavy rain this year.

The supply of flowers to the city markets comes from Malur, Hoskote, Bagaluru, Anekal, Nelamangala, Kolar, Hosuru and Davanagere.

"The minimum cost of a small garland of jasmine ranges from Rs 600 to Rs 800. Similarly, for offering puja to vehicles and office equipment, marigold and lillies are used. The price of marigold jumped from Rs 20 per kg last week to Rs 100 while lillies a kilo which were sold at Rs 150 last week has now doubled to Rs 300. The inflation is due to a rise in demand and shortage of supply as tonnes of flowers were damaged," Diwakar said.

A woman purchases flowers and other puja materials ahead of Ayudha Puja and Vijayadashami festival at Gandhi Bazar in Bengaluru on Monday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

Krishna MR, a farmer involved in floriculture, said that he along with his relatives own 1.5 acres of land. He recalled that from September 4-8, the land was flooded and standing crops of roses and marie gold were destroyed.

One of the farmers said that he plans to supply marigold and chrysanthemum during Diwali, after removing all the decayed plant from his nursery near Bagaluru. "We were ready to supply marigold and chrysanthemum during Dasara, but flooding in Bengaluru led to 1.5 acres of flower buds being submerged for four days after Dakshina Pinakini swelled, resulting in a loss of around Rs 5 lakh."

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

04TH October : Yesterday I said that the universe is a mere 12 billion years old - quite young really. Some astronomers insist it's at least 3 billion years older than that, but what concerns me is how long it still has to run. It might have just another fifteen billion years or so, so don't panic - not just yet, anyway!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Moon is intensifying its emotional influence over your sign, so your intuitive faculties are in fine form. Your business and professional imagination is now in top gear, so it's naturally an amazing day for anyone going to meetings or interviews.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
In spite of recent disagreements over finances, other people should now show their willingness to get on with life as normal. The very fact that Mars and Mercury are influencing your house of marriage, by the way, means that there is no room for time-wasting and waffle in relationships.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
There still seems to be an air of mild confusion over career or professional interests. One reason could be that other people have not been entirely straight or honest. Neither have they understood the implications of their actions. It might be up to you to put them right.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
The best that can be said about recent planetary aspects is that they have taught you the virtues of self-reliance. Now that so many planets are surging through creative regions of your chart, you can afford to enjoy yourself in the way that only you know how.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
If you expect to have life all your own way, especially at home, you will be making a very grave mistake. There is a feeling abroad that what is needed is a business like arrangement and plain speaking rather than sentimental frills, so don't be caught off guard.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
There are now few signs of any more financial openings for Virgos, which means that all you can do today is formalise any recent agreements or decisions. Somehow even missed opportunities will present themselves for a second chance over the next week.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The Sun's brilliant alignment begins to shift, which means that you may suddenly be forced to abandon certain personal goals and deal with the inevitable costs slightly sooner rather than later. Still, it's best that you do so now rather than leave it until it's too late.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There is a lot to be said for keeping your distance and maintaining a dignified silence. Only if other people refuse point-blank to honour an agreement should you leap into the fray. As an extra aside, watch out for rising social or romantic costs.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You must realise that for every little piece of self-indulgence there is a price to be paid. Therefore this week you should always make sure that your emotional account remains in credit. It could be favour pay-back time, so return all the goodwill that you've been offered in recent times.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You have had more than your fair share of criticism, complaints and condemnation, and now it really is the time to boost your reputation. Spend as much time and take as much care as is necessary to arrange social engagements. Happiness lies in getting the details right.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
This is no time to be a shrinking violet. You must forget your democratic qualms and realise that you deserve to be number one. Nothing lasts for ever, but you must enjoy whatever glory you can get. Your emotional mood enters a more relaxed phase, by the way, although there'll still be surprises around every corner.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
How can you stay in one place when emotionally you are being drawn to another? This is not the first time that you have faced this Piscean dilemma, and hopefully you are now well on the way to a solution of a recurrent personal problem. And about time, some people might say.

Stressing the importance of religion, Home Minister Araga Jnanendra on Monday said that "religion should be protected to maintain peace in society". Expressing concern over increasing conversions, he said the government has already enacted The Karnataka Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Act to combat it. He also defended the Centre's decision to ban the PFI for allegedly disturbing peace.

With religious outreach, Rahul sends message of harmony

Reaches out to farmers, women, youth; calls on people to rise against graft, price rise

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

AT a time when religious animosity and hatred is causing concern across the nation, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi devoted considerable time on Day 4 of Bharat Jodo Yatra to reach out to religious heads to send a message of social harmony.

Starting the Monday padayatra from Hardinge Circle, Rahul Gandhi, party workers, members of civil society, morning walkers and cultural troupes added to the Dasara festive mood. Various folk teams joined in the padayatra and gave an enthralling performance on the wide roads of Mysuru, so the march resembled a mini Dasara.

Enroute, Rahul met JSS seer Shivaratri Deshikendra Swami, interacted with moulvis near Masjid-e-Azam, the Mysuru Bishop and members of the Jain community. Gandhi heard out representatives from Iskcon, youngsters and women who lined up with Bharat Jodo flags to send out a message that they are for communal amity and secularism.

After grabbing people's attention with his public speech in a heavy downpour in Mysuru on Sunday, Rahul opened the day listening to people and thanked them for apprising him about many issues. "Without harmony, there is no progress," he stressed, when he met heads of various religions and visited places of worship.

During the 22-km yatra on Monday, Rahul reached out to farmers, and even tasted sugarcane harvested in the fields near Pandavapura. He also received a letter presented by the public, and as students and children turned up, he made them walk along with him, enthralling the crowd.

Rahul got many gifts, among them were photographs of his parents, and his pencil sketch done by an artist in Kollegal village. Dalit women in Haralahalli in Pandavapura taluk performed arti with a lamp made of jaggery, and put a tilak on his forehead. He obliged a young girl who sought his autograph, and signed on her hand.

Addressing a street corner meeting, Rahul called on people to rise against corruption, unemployment, price rise, and division of the people for political gains. Thanking people for joining him during his nationwide Bharat Jodo Yatra, he said the response has given him greater vigour to take up the fight against evil and the government.

Terming Karnataka the most corrupt state in the country, he said corruption has not spared even labourers, contractors, farmers and industrialists, and wanted people to reject such a government.

SONIA, PRIYANKA MAY JOIN MEGA RALLY AT BALLARI

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @ Ballari

AS the Bharat Jodo Yatra gains pace in Karnataka, AICC president Sonia Gandhi and general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra are expected to participate in it when the mega rally, launched by Congress MP Rahul Gandhi, reaches Ballari. They are likely to address a massive crowd here on October 18 or 19.

Bringing the top Congress leaders to the district during the yatra is a well-thought out plan of the KPCC to recover the district it lost to the BJP. Moreover, the Gandhis have a close association with Ballari as Sonia fought against BJP leader Sushma Swaraj from here in the 1999 Lok Sabha polls, and won with a handsome margin. Hence, the party wants to cash in on this emotive moment.

Even in the Assembly elections, Ballari was once a strong fortress of the Congress, but now there are only two MLAs out of five Assembly segments in the district. As the Assembly polls are approaching, the party has planned a big rally, where over 5 lakh people are expected to gather. Recently, AICC Karnataka in-charge Randeep Singh Surjewala and KPCC president DK Shivakumar were in the city to identify the right location to hold the rally.

Shivakumar informed that he and Surjewala are personally monitoring the success of the event, but a list of leaders who would address the rally is yet to be finalised. As the AICC president's polls are scheduled on October 17, the rally might be held on October 18 or 19, he added.

DKS seeks time from ED amidst yatra plans

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AT a time when the Enforcement Directorate has issued fresh summons to KPCC president D K Shivakumar and his brother and Bengaluru Rural MP D K Suresh in connection with a probe related to the National Herald case and alleged financial contributions made to Young India, Shivakumar mentioned that he has appealed to the ED to provide another date for him to appear, considering his participation in the ongoing Bharat Jodo Yatra.

Speaking to reporters on Monday, the KPCC chief said, "I have asked the ED for an alternate date to appear as the Karnataka leg of Bharat Jodo Yatra is under way. On October 7, the march will reach Adichunchanagiri, where I should be present."

Admitting that he and his brother Suresh have extended all support to Young India, National Herald and the trust, he said that they are ready to appear before the agencies, but have requested them to give an alternative date.

Meanwhile, referring to the yatra, he said farmers and youth are taking part in good numbers, and the Congress leaders are upbeat about it.

HDK holds Vokkaliga fort, as BJP moves in

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

WITH the BJP eyeing to make inroads into Old Mysuru, former chief minister and JDS leader H D Kumaraswamy is apparently leaving no stone unturned to thwart the attempts of the ruling party, which has reportedly deployed its Vokkaliga leaders with a mission to make inroads in that region.

If Saturday's incident of an alleged attack on MLC C P Yogishwar by JDS workers at Channapatna is any indication, the regional party has sensed that letting another leader in may prove disastrous for it in the 2023 Assembly polls. When Yogishwar went ahead with the foundation-laying ceremony for road works, ignoring Kumaraswamy, the latter allegedly could not digest it, considering that he is the sitting MLA. The constituency was earlier held by Yogishwar.

The BJP leadership, while appointing Dr C N Ashwath Narayan, also a Vokkaliga, as the Ramanagara district incharge minister, was clear that it hoped to gain some backing from the community in that region. The Yogishwar-Ashwath Narayan combine hinted at taking on both the Congress and the JDS leaderships, to help the BJP make some ground.

Meanwhile, given that KPCC president D K Shivakumar and his brother and Bengaluru rural MP D K Suresh, who themselves have to take on the Vokkaliga leaders of the BJP, seemingly remain neutral, allowing for Kumaraswamy to handle them, sources said. There will not be any surprise if Shivakumar and Kumaraswamy strike a deal with each other in certain seats of the Ramanagara district, according to one source. During a recent meeting with community leaders and religious heads, instructions were given to both Shivakumar and Kumaraswamy that they have to be on good terms when it comes to attaining the CM's post, sources added.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai will perform Nandi Dhwaja puja at the north gate of the Mysuru Palace during the auspicious time between 2.36 pm and 2.50 pm before the commencement of the procession. The CM will also flag off the spectacular Jamboo Savari procession by showering flower petals on the idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari placed in the 750-kg golden palanquin on Abhimanyu. The torchlight parade around 7 pm at the Bannimantap Grounds will bring down the curtains on the celebrations after Governor Thawar Chand Gehlot receives the guard of honour.

Joshi for long-term plan to fix state's share in GDP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hubballi

IN a bid to attain the ambitious target of India evolving into a $32-trillion dollar economy by 2047, a long-term action plan should be chalked out to fix the share of Karnataka in the nation's GDP, with a view of the contributions of various regions of the state, including the Hubballi-Dharwad-Belagavi (HBD) region, said Union minister Pralhad Joshi on Monday, calling upon the State Government to work towards this goal.

Inaugurating Techceleration-2022, a convention to boost the digital economy of the HBD region, Joshi noted that while Bengaluru was the investors' preferred destination, just one city in any state should not be overburdened to ensure targeted growth, but other places too should be marketed for equitable development. "To ensure even-handed growth of all regions, of course, the governments are coming up with policies and programmes, including building strong physical and industrial infrastructure. However, investors as well as bureaucrats should change their mindset over implementing them effectively so as to attract more investment to all parts of the state," he said, adding that the Union Government was ready to help in any way, including policy intervention.

Hubballi to get AI Centre for Excellence: Minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hubballi

IT, Electronics, BT, and Science & Technology Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan on Monday announced that Hubballi would be getting a Centre for Excellence on Artificial Intelligence, and the government was in search of an anchor institution like NASSCOM or private industries to work with local players in setting up the said facility.

Narayan said the Hubballi-Dharwad-Belagavi cluster, formed under the Karnataka Digial Economy Mission, under the Beyond Bengaluru programme, is next to Bengaluru as far as launching startups. Accordingly, eight new startups have come up in the region in the last one year under the said programme. Apart from existing incubation centres in the region, more such facilities are expected to come up at the IIT, IIIT and VTU, so prospects of new startups here are high, said the minister, adding that the new firms that have come up have already created 4,000 direct and indirect jobs. Earlier, speaking at the Techceleration-2022 convention, the minister said a Global Emerging Technology Centre would be set up at the cost of Rs 150 crore in Belagavi. He assured that Rs 25 crore has been provided to the Hubballi Cluster Seed Fund to accelerate startups, which have reached the stage of creating products and services at the incubation centres.

Shettar miffed with red-tape affecting NK

PRAMODKUMAR VAIDYA @ Hubballi

FORMER chief minister Jagadish Shettar on Monday looked deeply disappointed over the alleged bureaucratic hurdles in clearing investment proposals related to the North Karnataka region. He did not mince words while criticising the announcement of a greenfield international airport for Kittur, by stating that "one should stop announcing projects just to seek publicity".

In fact, the senior BJP leader is sulking as he is feeling left out of every activity -- both in the government and his party. He chose the Techceleration platform to vent his ire against the dispensation. He selectively targeted the Commerce and Industry Department for not acting swiftly on the investment proposals of Hubballi-Dharwad.

"While I was industries minister, all proposals used to get cleared in just three months. Aequs SEZ Limited getting clearance and taking possession of 400 acres of land for its CEDG cluster in Hubballi-Dharwad is testament to that. However, the situation is not the same now," he claimed.

Shettar expressed his anguish over fixing the rate for the leftover land at Aryabhata Tech Park developed between Hubballi and Dharwad. Stating that the issue was pending for years due to negligence of departments concerned, he added it is now fixed at Rs 54 crore per acre. "Such bureaucratic hurdles have kept companies away from the region. The same is being witnessed with regard to the proposed FMCG cluster in Dharwad," he said.

Meanwhile, questioning the announcement of a greenfield airport for Kittur by Large & Medium-scale Industries Minister Murugesh Nirani, he asked where is the land for the airport and if any land survey was conducted. "How is it possible when there is a lot of scope for expansion of Hubballi and Belagavi airports? Moreover, how is it feasible to develop an international airport without international travellers? One should not make announcements just for gaining publicity," he remarked.

Stating that a bill for announcing Dharwad as a special investment region is still pending before the government, Shettar appealed to get approval from both Houses of the Legislature.

BJP LAUNCHES POSTER CAMPAIGN ON SIDDARAMAIAH HELPING PFI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A poster war has broken out between the Congress and BJP: after the former released the 'PayCM' poster with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's image on a QR code, the latter has Congress leader Siddaramaiah in Tipu Sultan's attire on its posters.

Revenue Minister R Ashoka released a poster with Siddaramaiah's picture, accusing him of dropping cases against PFI activists when he was chief minister. "Despite the opinion of the state DGP and legal committee not to close cases against PFI activists, Siddaramaiah, following former minister Tanveer Sait's letter on December 10, 2012, helped over 1,600 activists," alleged Ashoka. He pointed out that the cases were related to banned writer Taslima Nasreen's book. "Now Siddaramaiah claims he is in favour of the ban on PFI, which shows his double standards," Ashoka said.

The BJP poster is a copycat version of the Congress campaign, with a QR code which directs the user to pfibhagya.com, and an article headlined, 'PFI ban a message to anti-national groups', besides news stories on Congress leaders being soft on the PFI in the past. "Siddaramaiah implemented PFI Bhagya," Ashoka claimed. "Saddened @siddaramaiah as he did not come to march along with @rahulGandhi and @DKshivakumar on Saturday, after the ban on PFI. Why Siddaramaiah is so sad?" the BJP tweeted. Some social media users sought proof that cases against PFI activists were dropped.

KPCC communications wing chairman Priyank Kharge denied that the Siddaramaiah government had dropped cases against PFI activists. "The BJP is rattled by Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra, and may resort to spreading conspiracy theories... Let them answer RSS leader Satyajit Surathkal, who alleged that the BJP was supporting PFI with logistics," Kharge said.

KPCC working president Saleem Ahmed alleged that the BJP had made use of the PFI politically, to snub the Congress. "Let the government ban all organisations that spread hatred in society," he urged.

Couple struggles to ferry newborn's body to village

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tumakuru

IN a heart-wrenching incident, a labourer couple found it a daunting task to shift the body of their newborn from the distinct general hospital here to their native Gopanal village in Davanagere district, as the government ambulance service is restricted to a jurisdiction of only 40km. The village is about 200km from here.

Manjunath and Gowramma, grieving over their loss, attempted to board a KSRTC bus with the body, but the driver and conductor objected, saying there was no provision to ferry bodies in public buses. The bewildered family did not have enough money to hire a private vehicle, and was stranded at the bus stand for hours, until their predicament caught the attention of BJP leader T H Hanumantharaju, who hired a private car to drop them to their village. "The newborn's body reached home. Hospital authorities should have helped with an ambulance on humanitarian grounds," he remarked.

The infant was born four days ago, and died due to complications on Monday morning. "Since we spent all our money at the hospital, we had nothing except for bus fare. We are grateful to Hanumantharaju," said Manjunath. He worked as a construction labourer at Sathyamangala industrial area here. Later in the evening, district surgeon Dr Veena reportedly offered to pay for transport and called up Hanumantharaju, which the latter denied.

ASKED NOT TO SMOKE AT FUEL PUMP, TRIO ATTACKS OWNER

PRAVEEN KUMAR
@ Bengaluru

THE owner of a petrol pump on the Bengaluru-Ramanagara main road, along with its manager, were attacked by three SUV-borne miscreants, after they were asked to stop smoking on the premises.

The staff had refused to refuel their vehicle, if they continued smoking. However, the trio continued doing the same, and even put out a cigarette very close to the fuel sump.

The pump's owner has been identified as Mohan, while the manager is KS Manu, who filed a police complaint. The filling station is located at Archakarahalli, and the incident occurred on Saturday around 4.45 pm. The accused, who barged inside the pump's office, had to be controlled by the other staffers and motorists. After the owner tried to call police, the accused fled.

Speaking to TNIE, the manager said it was very scary when the accused did not put out the cigarette. "The sump was getting filled and the accused were very close to the petrol tanker. When petrol is getting loaded into the sump, we stop refuelling vehicles. The accused, who were waiting, were smoking. Luckily nothing happened. In case something had happened, nobody would have been alive, including the accused," Manu said. In case of a mishap, there would have been a major fire covering a radius of around 100 metres.

The police, after checking CCTV footage, have found that the accused are from Ramanagara, and were driving an SUV registered in Bengaluru Central (Koramangala) RTO.

The accused have been booked for causing hurt, wrongful restraint, along with other sections of the IPC. "We suspect that the accused were drunk. Their identity has been known and they will be arrested soon," said an officer.

HC pulls up KSRTC over its double standards

Transport body accused of changing its stand to avoid paying compensation to accident victims

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has directed the Managing Director of the Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) to issue Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) to its officials on not taking contradictory stands before different disciplinary authorities on initiating action against erring drivers and paying compensation to victims in accident cases.

Justice Suraj Govindaraj passed the order, while dismissing a petition filed by the KSRTC questioning the order passed in 2018 by the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal (MACT).

The MACT had directed the KSRTC to reinstate driver Ganganna, who was dismissed by the disciplinary authority for alleged rash and negligent driving which resulted in the killing of a motorcyclist and the pillion rider near Nelamangala on July 26, 2015.

The KSRTC took a stand before the disciplinary authority that Ganganna was responsible for the accident so action was taken against him by dismissing him from service. At the same time, it took a contradictory stand before the MACT that the driver was not at fault and the rider of the two-wheeler was driving in a rash and negligent manner. This, the court said, was an attempt to escape from its liability of paying compensation.

The court noted that not only was the precious time of the Tribunal, but more importantly, the victim of the road accident was denied immediate relief by way of payment of compensation. Viewing lapses seriously, the court directed the KSRTC MD to initiate necessary disciplinary proceedings against officials who are guilty of twisting facts.

City reports 1 Covid case

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

BENGALURU city on Monday reported one Covid-19 case, of the 1,344 people tested. On Sunday, the city had reported eight cases.

Health officials and BBMP cautioned citizens not to drop their guard and assume that Covid-19 is over. An assessment of past cases shows that Covid cases rise and fall in waves, and there is a sudden spurt when people let their guard down completely. Health Commissioner D Randeep said testing of all those with symptoms will continue. A close watch is being kept on the case trend, with a spike in cases after festivals. With Dasara here and Deepawali round the corner, there could be a rise in cases. BBMP Special Commissioner, Health, Dr K V Trilokchandra said, "Testing was down on Sunday, so cases were few. A close watch will be kept during the festival season. Cases have dropped in the past ten days, which could be because people are travelling and testing has fallen."

The TAC also clarified that the wave has tailed out, but Covid has not. According to health officials, another reason for fewer cases being reported is that doctors are discouraging people to go for testing, and are treating all patients with Covid-like symptoms as viral fever, and treating it with regular medicines.

Depressed, DRDO guard shoots self

ENS @ Bengaluru

A 48-year-old security guard shot himself to death at the DRDO campus, in CV Raman Nagar, while on duty. The incident took place early on Monday, and his family claim that he was depressed since a few days, the police said.

The deceased has been identified as Karegowda, who hailed from Ranebennur, and was residing in Nagasandra with his family. The police said the incident took place around 6.30 am, when he shot himself, aiming an SLR gun at his forehead. Another guard, who heard the gunshot, alerted a senior officer who then called the Byappanahalli police.

Karegowda served in the military for 18 years, before joining the Defence Security Corps four years ago. He was seen upset during work hours for the last few days, and was not even speaking to colleagues properly. No suicide note has been recovered, the police said.

Kamalakshi, Karegowda's wife, stated before the police that he had no issues at work, and was not sharing what was bothering him any of his problems with the family. She held no one responsible for his death, police added.

Byapanahalli police have registered a case of unnatural death, while the reasons behind his extreme step are yet to be ascertained. A DRDO spokesperson said: "We were not aware of the incident till evening, and have nothing to share about the deceased's details."

THE National Green Tribunal (NGT) has imposed a hefty penalty of ₹3,800 crore on Telangana government for failing to manage or treat solid and liquid waste.

A bench headed by NGT chairperson Justice AK Goel observed that there is a huge gap in the management of solid and liquid waste in the state. The bench said that providing clean air, water, sanitation and environment should be a priority.

The state cannot escape the constitutional responsibility of providing a pollution-free environment, the bench said, adding that liability of the state for past violations had to be quantified on the "polluter pays" principle.

The total compensation under the head of failure to scientifically manage solid waste works out to ₹177 crore.

The compensation which may be deposited within two months.

The compensation has has become necessary under section 15 of the NGT Act to remedy the continuing damage to the environment and to comply with directions of the Supreme Court requiring this Tribunal to monitor enforcement of norms for solid and liquid waste management.

The restoration plans need to be executed at the earliest simultaneously in all districts/cities/towns/villages in a time-bound manner without delay.

If violations continue, the state will have to pay additional compensation. Chief Secretary will be responsible to ensure compliance for which a Special Senior Nodal Secretary with a team of technical experts should be immediately deputed. BJP leader Manikanth Rathod, an aspirant for Chittapur assembly constituency ticket in the upcoming elections, has been externed (banished) from Kalaburagi district for one year over various charges against him.

In a press release issued on Monday, Deputy Commissioner of Police Adduru Srinivasalu confirmed that the order to extern Rathod was issued on Friday. The DCP said during the externment period, Rathod will have to live within the jurisdiction of Shivamogga District (Rural) Police Station limits.

KSRTC bus, truck collide in Hoskote, couple dies, 4-year-old son survives

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A COUPLE from Andhra Pradesh died on the spot and their four-year-old son and 20 other passengers sustained serious injuries after the KSRTC bus in which they were travelling, collided with a stone-laden truck around 1.30am Monday. The accident occurred in front of NH75 Hotel, near Mylapura Gate on Old Madras Road in Hoskote.

The truck was parked on the highway due to a technical glitch, and the driver reportedly switched on the parking lights, which the bus driver failed to notice. The couple and their son were sitting in front, next to the driver. The deceased Bala Murugan, 45, and his wife Selvi, 36, were natives of Chittoor in Andhra Pradesh. The bus had left Andhra around 9.30pm, and was heading to Majestic.

Except for Murugan's son, the other injured, including the bus driver, are said to be out of danger. The injured include two other children.

The couple had been living in Bengaluru for the past 10 years. Around two months ago, the family left to their home town to attend some family functions, and were returning to the city. The bodies were sent after the postmortem.

"Truck driver Paramesh was arrested and the truck was seized. He claimed that he was unable to start the vehicle due to a technical problem. The deceased couple's son is seriously injured and undergoing treatment. The victim's aunt has been informed about the accident," said an officer.

Following the accident, senior KSRTC officers visited the spot and the hospital where the boy is being treated. "KSRTC will bear the entire treatment cost of the boy. The bus collided with the truck that was parked on the highway. The truck had a breakdown," a KSRTC release said.

SWR pays ₹56cr bonus to staff

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

SOUTH Western Railway zone paid a 'Productivity Linked Bonus' of Rs 56.28 crore to 32,358 railway employees. They form part of 11.27 lakh non-gazetted employees across the country.

The bonus was paid to eligible non-gazetted staffers, and is equivalent to 78 days wages, said an official release. The maximum amount payable per eligible railway employee is Rs 17,951 for 78 days, it added.

"The payment would serve as an incentive and motivate a large number of railway employees, particularly those involved in the execution and operation of Railways, to improve their productivity and ensure safety, speed and service for its customers," it said. The move would also boost the demand for the upcoming festival season.

Railway staff have played a key role in the performance of passenger and goods services, which also boosted the economy.

During the past three years, Railways has undertaken a series of steps to regain market share in freight and increase realisation in passenger fares through suitable policy initiatives. As a result, in 2022-23, Railways has regained momentum in receipts, disrupted previously due to the pandemic.

In FY 2021-22, Railways achieved incremental freight loading of 184 million tonnes, which is the highest ever of a total of 1,418 million tonnes.

AFTER UNCERTAINTY, GST FINALLY BEGINS TO PAY DIVIDENDS

The Goods and Services Tax (GST), the much-touted indirect tax reform that took a decade to realise, finally seems to be paying the dividends—five years after its implementation. The September GST collection at ₹1.47 lakh crore is the seventh in a row when monthly collections have been over ₹1.4 lakh crore. In the first six months of FY23, the collections have averaged ₹1.49 lakh crore—almost ₹25,000 crore more than the entire year average of ₹1.24 lakh crore in FY22. This is a big jump given that average monthly collections, even in the pre-Covid era, were around ₹95,000 crore.

The disruption created by the implementation of the new indirect tax regime in 2017 was expected to shrink the revenue collection in the first couple of years. Still, it took much longer than that for the revenues to stabilise at a healthy average of above ₹1 lakh crore. This delay could be attributed to the government's many mistakes in the early days of GST implementation. The biggest of them all was frequent chopping and changing in the rates. Under pressure from both businesses and the public, the government made many unnecessary changes—including lowering GST rates on several items, keeping some goods and services out of the ambit of GST, etc. Within two years, the government realised, as also pointed out by the Finance Commission report, that average GST rates (at 11.6%) were much below the revenue neutral rate of 15.3%. But it took them a while to reverse some of the 'mistakes', including lowering rates. The rates rationalisation process began a year ago, and now after a few rounds of increases in GST rates, revenues have started showing healthy growth.

The crackdown on evasions and wrongful claiming of input tax credits also helped the government shore up collections. At the peak of Covid-19 in 2020–21, the GST authorities, armed with data analytics tools, went hard after the evaders. This was followed by efforts like e-invoicing, which required each B2B invoice to be uploaded on the GST portal, further removing the scope for manipulation. Better monitoring and rate rationalisation have helped the government increase GST revenues recently—of course, also supported by high inflation. Now, the Central government would be hoping that states lower their anti-GST stance and stop asking for more compensation.

MUST BUST ODISHA FAKE DRUGS RACKET

Counterfeiting threatens the very essence of what life-saving drugs stand for. Drug control authorities woke up to the fact last month when they swooped down on a massive haul of fake drugs meant to treat hypertension and cardiovascular diseases. Two agencies booked for the supply of the drugs worth over ₹50 lakh were found to have sourced the medicines from Karnataka and Bihar. Till now, there has been minimal trace of where these spurious drugs came from, though several teams have been deployed to track the source down.

This is not happening for the first time, though. During the Covid-19 pandemic, when the antiviral drug Favipiravir was in huge demand, enforcement agencies found fake drugs doing the rounds. Counterfeiting is a huge menace in India, but the volume of fakery in the drug industry is alarming. Odisha has a reason to worry because of its minuscule drug manufacturing industry. For a population of 4.5 crore, it has just 60-odd licensed drug manufacturers. Most of them are in the MSME sector, producing generic drugs and parenterals. This means the state has to depend on outside sources, exposing it to the vagaries of counterfeiting. So complex is the drug manufacturing and supply chain that detection of substandard and falsified drugs is a tedious task. Add to it the weak testing facilities and enforcement network.

However, it is only symptomatic of the malaise that grips India, the world's pharmacy hub. And more the crises, the merrier. A white paper by the Authentication Solution Providers' Association (ASPA) suggests that counterfeiting of Covid-19 products was detected in 23 out of 29 states and seven union territories. Besides, substandard and falsified medical products reported a 47% jump in 2021 over the previous year. Taking advantage of medicine scarcity, poor regulations, and legal framework, manufacturers of spurious drugs bleed the exchequer and pose a severe threat to public health in India. The Centre has introduced a norm which makes it mandatory to put QR codes on all active pharmaceutical ingredients to trace and track—this will come into force from next year. It's a welcome step, but using technology—some experts suggest using the blockchain technique to secure the manufacturing network—can strengthen the ecosystem. Also, robust enforcement, testing facilities across the states and a national digital database of every licensed manufacturer would go a long way in curbing the country's dangerous trend of counterfeiting medical products.

QUICK TAKE

LOGIC OF DOORSTEP RATIONS

The judiciary has set aside schemes of the Delhi and West Bengal governments to deliver rations to beneficiaries at their doorstep. In Delhi's case, the High Court said the state could not use the Centre's grain for its scheme. In Kolkata, the High Court cited the lack of a provision in the law to engage ration shop dealers for doorstep delivery of rations. But is anybody questioning the dealers why the poor regularly complain about low-quality grain, redirecting the grain to the open market or irregular timings of ration shops? States must be permitted doorstep supplies to overcome these lacunae.

Multiplexes come to the Valley in a move towards positive change but there are many obstacles yet to overcome

CRYSTALLISING SOCIAL CHANGE IN KASHMIR

LT GEN SYED ATA HASNAIN (RETD)

Former Commander, Srinagar-based 15 Corps. Now Chancellor, Central University

SOUMYADIP SINHA

I was happy that a guest coordinator from a television channel rang me up to invite me to an evening panel discussion on prime-time television to express my opinion on the inauguration of multiplexes in the Shopian, Pulwama and Srinagar districts of the Kashmir Valley. As an old Kashmir hand and constant watcher, how could one not be happy at this development? I expressed that sentiment almost immediately after being asked and followed it up with total support to this fledgling moment when change seems so imminent where it is required most.

I never tire of stating that many years ago, I failed to elicit a response to my question about what my aim should be in Kashmir while responsible for its security. In frustration, I had evolved my aim. In a few words, it was simply—'To mainstream the state of J&K to the rest of the nation in the political, economic, social and psychological domains; promote everyone being Indian and to feel Indian'. I am glad I never missed the two most important words, 'social and psychological', which are so significant in today's development of the future environment.

I am also fully aware that it's a little early in this piece to introduce this issue because it robs the occasion of the intrinsic fun that the people of Kashmir deserve without being subjected to academic or strategic analysis. They have been denied, primarily by their ilk, the freedoms India offers; the ability to work hard and enjoy the fruits of one's labour.

Attempts to subjugate and regulate thinking, away from the freedoms to enjoy the pleasures of youth, and prevent citizens from growing up amidst flexible choice have been a hallmark of society there—not necessarily voluntary at all. My conversations with youth and many wise, middle-aged, and well-educated citizens always revealed the other side of the Kashmiri psyche. They are as normal as anyone else but are caught in the web of forced culture and are unable to express true sentiment. It was good to see familiar faces at the high-profile inaugurations, and all seemed to express happiness. However, are they convinced that this moment of happiness will last?

So, everyone seems to be welcoming the change and, like me, is terming the change as a bold one. Yes, it did need bold decisions, which seem to have been taken some time ago. Without bold decisions, this could not have worked; frankly, it's early to say yet if it has worked or will lead to final all-round success in changing the thought process about entertainment as an entity of change or resistance against all-pervading prudishness. It's all happening within less than a year of the commencement of a heinous round of minority and immigrant targeting, a possible fallout of the surge which was expected with US withdrawal from Afghanistan and the rise of radical ideology. That is why the most significant question of the discussion was whether we are pushing for normalcy a little too fast. Is this a competing narrative which can sustain the pace?

Observers outside Kashmir who may not know the true history of militancy and terror in the Valley would be unaware of the role that such forced culture has had in running the alien narratives. The proxy war in Kashmir was launched by Pakistan's various agencies and personalities, aimed at a comprehensive breakdown of J&K's society through sub-conventional violence, such as eroding Indian control over its people, culture, and its way of life. Terror was a subset of the strategy which aimed at substantially eroding the largely tolerant and middle path ideology which existed but had always been under threat from emerging religious radicals in the years after Independence.

One of the aims of the proxy war was to reverse that culture and make it intolerant, more prudish, radical and unaccepting of other faiths or cultures. That way it was hoped that Pakistan could integrate this society far more easily through internal movements. The ban on entertainment, music, films and drama was a part of this campaign. All efforts to reintroduce formal entertainment through the reopening of cinema halls were frustrated. To add to this, in smaller cities and towns, even the basic café culture was shunned. Young people had to hide in darkness to meet each other and have inter-gender associations and friendships. There were some tragic circumstances as a result of this that I can recall.

Is this movement towards change too quick, too unthought and unlikely to last? A few months ago, I may have agreed with this statement but no longer. I take a lot of inspiration from the decision of August 5, 2019, when the government boldly threw caution to the winds and took the risk. Without risk, none of this can succeed. It's not like a rabbit pulled out of a hat. There has been some invisible background preparation to all this. Some very intense youth engagement has been on, and it is not only in Srinagar but in way-off districts which have been the focus of terrorists and separatists. The symbolism of the national tricolour in landmark locations and small events involving the youth, conducted by many government agencies, has helped enmesh new networks. This must be sustained if the latest efforts have to succeed. That means the establishment has to be ahead in the loop of engagement, and the media has to be supportive. Social media cannot be ignored either. At that time (2019), a more integrated approach to social media handling was initiated by the local government; the Army can help with this, but it must largely be civilian in content.

If we are intently observing what is happening in Pakistan and its shenanigans in the UN General Assembly, we will realise that pushback against all measures that we undertake to bring normalcy to Kashmir—is just a little distance away. Social change is a driver towards normalcy, but its collapse will mean victory for puritanical forces. That is something we can ill afford.

To the people of Kashmir, here is a straight-faced message: Exploit the moment and take it well beyond; it is as much in your hands.

GOVERNORS MUST BE NON-PARTISAN AND UPHOLD FOUNDING DEED

FAISAL C K

Under Secretary (Law) to the Government of Kerala

State after state in India is falling for governor-chief minister tussles like a row of dominoes. The latest instance is Punjab, where Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann had criticised the governor after the latter sought details of the legislative business to be taken up in the Assembly session last month. "In 75 years, no president/governor ever asked for a list of legislative business before calling a session," the CM wrote in a tweet. In Jharkhand, Governor Ramesh Bais keeps Chief Minister Hemant Soren on tenterhooks over the Election Commission's purported opinion on his disqualification as a legislator in connection with a mining lease contract. The fate of the state government still hangs in the balance.

Likewise, Kerala Governor Arif Mohammad Khan is on a collision course with the state government. Khan recently redflagged the appointment of a university teacher. The state government introduced a bill in the Legislative Assembly to have absolute powers to appoint vice-chancellors to the 13 state-run universities.

The tussle has become an open brawl as the chief minister termed the governor's 'outbursts' against the government 'ridiculous' and not befitting the latter's noble office. The governor hit back, stating that he was not inclined to approve the University Laws (Amendment) Bill, on the grounds that it is designed to legalise the illegalities in university appointments. Khan's response is a straw in the wind—a much more intense political stalemate is in the offing in the state.

When the coalition government of Uddhav Thackeray was toppled by a combination of Shiv Sena rebels and the BJP in Maharashtra, the role of Governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari came into question. The Thackeray faction alleged he was partisan and aided the rebels in crucial ways on critical occasions. The governor summoned the Assembly while the petitions were still pending before the Supreme Court, and his decision changed the situation in favour of the BJP and the Shiv Sena rebels.

In West Bengal, erstwhile Governor Jagdeep Dhankhar had several disagreements with Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee. The Assembly passed a bill relieving the governor from the post of Chancellor of state universities and appointing the chief minister to the mantle. In Telangana, too, there is a tug of war between Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao and Governor Tamilisai Soundararajan. The governor recently told the media, "We are Governors, not rubber stamps to approve every decision made at Cabinet meetings attended by CM's family members."

India's Constitution is the nation's 'founding deed' and its 'paramount parchment'. Parliamentary democracy, with its nucleus, the cabinet system, is the warp and weft of the constitutional fabric. The Supreme Court of India, in Shamsher Singh v. State of Punjab (1974), unambiguously clarified that our Constitution has adopted the British Westminster system, and the status of governors—and the President—corresponds to that of the monarch in the United Kingdom.

FILE PICTURE

'We now need a genetic change in the DNA of the office and its functions so that representative government at the State level may not become the political plaything of outsiders'

When King George V of England was asked how he was getting on with his first Labour government, he famously replied: "Very well. My grandmother would have hated it; my father would have tolerated it, but I move with the times."

Very often, objections raised by King George V were silenced by the simple statement, "Well, your Majesty, that is the Cabinet decision". Governors and the president of India have to move with the time, as the British monarch does, irrespective of the party in power and his political views and hues.

King Edward VIII's abdication underscores the monarch's role in the British system. In connection with his proposed marriage to Wallis Simpson, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin told the monarch that he must obey his advice or take the government's resignation. The cabinet refused the king's idea of broadcasting his case to the people and insisted on a rapid decision. The monarch decided to abdicate. This demonstrates how practically important the prime minister and chief ministers are and how splendidly impotent the president and the governors are.

Justice V R Krishna Iyer observed in his A Constitutional Miscellany four decades ago—"The office of Governor is a British Indian transplant with a federalist flavour. Even so, it is not an altogether otiose office or redundancy. But, thanks to frequent abuses, some political jurists question even the need to keep the Raj Bhavan and its tenant in expensive pomp and panoply and the potential for puppetry directed from Delhi or the Moghul tendency misled by artificial diction. The basic challenge has acquired militancy because Governors are no longer innocent idlers with ceremonial relevance and statesmanly detachment but nocent torpedoes of the State autonomy or artists of superannuated sadistry with gubernatorial ego…No party in Central power has been guiltless, and appointments of Governors and their behavioural patterns are an open 'trade secret' in extra-constitutionalism. We now need a genetic change in the DNA of the office and its functions so that representative government at the State level may not become the political plaything of outsiders." Krishna Iyer's comments on gubernatorial interference appear prophetic in current times.

In his Working a Democratic Constitution: A History of the Indian Experience (2003), Granville Austin says: "Unless governors conduct themselves strictly as constitutional monarchs (whether by personal self-discipline or as the result of constitutional requirements), the office is likely to prejudice cooperative centre-state relations and effective administration, and risks the viability of the democratic Constitution." The vigilance of We the People is a surer guarantee of the democratic order than the pontificating clauses of the Constitution. Public opinion should ensure that governors are the pious priests of the 'paramount parchment'.

Parable of Pingala

Apropos of Pingala of Videha and her stark reality check (Oct 3). Renuka Narayanan's retelling of Pingala's story from Vyasa's Srimad Bhagavatam indicated that anyone can learn a life-changing lesson from anybody, irrespective of their profession, class, and gender. In the story, an ascetic realised the importance of independent reasoning from Pingala. A good story indeed!

Indonesia stadium stampede

Apropos of 125 killed in Indonesia's soccer stadium stampede (Oct 3). I was heartbroken to read that so many people suffocated and died due to the stampede. This is one of the worst stadium disasters ever recorded, and it shows what the result of weak security is. If we do not spread awareness about this, a worse incident is bound to occur. But what piques my mind is why people take games so seriously. Their reaction to losing a game ended up in them losing their lives.

India can pave way to peace

Apropos of India's take on Putin land grab could have been better worded (Oct 3). The entire nation felt pangs of pride when PM Modi advised Putin at the SCO summit in Samarkand by saying, "Today's era is not an era of war". Kharge for debate on jobs, inflation; wants team work

IT is almost a given that you will be the next president. What are your priorities?
I am contesting the election in response to the wishes of a very large number of our colleagues from different states who belong to different age groups. I am contesting with a deep sense of humility to discharge my obligations to a party that has given me everything. What I will do once I receive the requisite support will be demonstrated by my actions.

This exercise is to strengthen the party and unite to fight the common enemy, the BJP. My priorities are: to strengthen the party, unite the party ground-up, incorporate the opinion of each stakeholder and, most importantly, propagate the party ideology.

Many local leaders have demanded changing the Bharat Jodo Yatra route so that it can pass through their own constituencies. Is that possible?
The yatra is a herculean effort that no one else than Rahulji could have undertaken. It has been meticulously planned. Many senior leaders, MPs, MLAs, PCC delegates would want the yatra to pass through their constituencies, but it can't always be possible. Many factors, including security clearances, need to be considered and last-minute changes are not possible. This yatra is about how different thoughts are assimilated (vichaaron ko jodna) to have a comprehensive idea of India. We will plan many state-specific yatras.

Many Congress leaders have moved out, both nationally and locally. Will you welcome them back?
There is a process within the party, unlike other parties. Decisions are made on a particular forum and with a consensus. I believe in collective leadership where the opinions of local and regional leaders are given importance. I have followed an approach where each stakeholder's voice counts. I'll continue following this.

Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh are going to be your testing ground. How do you plan to win in both states?
In Gujarat, we won 77 assembly seats out of 182 in 2017. In Himachal, we got 42% of the total votes cast. Anyone who deep-dives into the numbers and the actual situation can tell you the 'Gujarat model' was a sham. People are fed up with zero administration in Gujarat. Same is the case with all BJP-ruled states. The Congress is working hard to overthrow the BJP with an alternative which is focused on creating job opportunities and controlling the ever-increasing inflation.

You have quit your RS post and your loyalists say your victory is a foregone conclusion.
My decision was based on the Udaipur resolution: one man, one post. I find this very logical. My well-wishers might say that, but this is a free election. My job is to connect with all members and communicate my vision, take them along and strengthen the party. Our main fight is against the BJP-RSS. Let us not get diverted.

The last AICC president from Karnataka was S Nijalingappa in 1969. But that was a different era. Do you think Congress can revive and regain its glory?
Congress is an idea that has survived political attacks. No one can imagine our country without Congress. Since we are an ideologically-driven party, ideas never die. They may be suppressed for a brief period by forces but can't sustain for long. The Bharat Jodo Yatra is a 150-day campaign touching various states. Lakhs of people have walked alongside Rahulji already. Look at the phenomenal response he is receiving.

My job is to connect with all members and communicate my vision, take them along and strengthen the party. Our main fight is against the BJP-RSS. Let us not get diverted

Mallikarjun Kharge

The other aspirant, Shashi Tharoor, challenged you for a debate. What is your response?
Both of us are in one team i.e. Team Congress. We should debate the role of BJP and RSS. We should debate against rising unemployment. Both of us should debate the rising inflation. We should discuss the Centre's policies which are changing our demographic dividend into a demographic disaster. Having a debate with each other (as Tharoor demanded) is neither going to strengthen our great nation nor the party.

Tharoor says he doesn't carry any baggage in party

WITH the campaign in full throttle, how confident are you about winning?
I'm aware that I'm seen as the underdog. As the expression goes, the underdog fights with all the more spirit. What's encouraging is a number of ordinary party workers from across the countries who are pledging their support to me. Ever since the election was announced, I've been getting calls and visits from several party workers from all over the country. The tremendous amount of enthusiasm shows that party workers seem to believe that I represent a genuine possibility of change.

You said that Kharge is a candidate of continuity. Are you saying that the high command culture is here to stay?
All I'm saying is that Kharge is one of the top leaders in the party as it exists now. If anyone was to ask for the top three Congress leaders without counting the Gandhis, definitely Kharge will figure in the list. So it's a fair assumption that if he was an advocate of change, we would have seen the change at the top already. Since he has not been doing it, the assumption has to be that he is an ignorant advocate of change, whereas I don't have the baggage in the current organisation, other than being the founder and developer of an organisation called 'All India Professionals Congress'. So not being entrenched in the present organisation is an advantage to me whereas Kharge is very clearly part of the existing system. It's a reasonable assumption to make that he will continue with the present way of doing things.

It's a fair assumption that if he (Kharge) was an advocate of change, we'd have seen the change at the top already. Since he has not been doing it... he is an ignorant advocate of change

Shashi Tharoor

Gehlot has said that Tharoor should withdraw from the race.
I cannot let down dozens of party workers who stuck their necks out by signing my forms and even the larger number of workers who have reached out extending support to me.

Do you still believe that the Gandhis are neutral after all the support Kharge is receiving?
You can't ask me whether I doubt the word of Congress president, former president and the party's election authority. All of them are insisting that the high command is totally neutral.

The G-23 leaders too have endorsed Kharge. One of the leaders told this newspaper that you didn't consult them.
At no stage, I sought to be a representative of the G-23, which is actually a figment of media imagination. I've spoken to every individual who subsequently signed on the nomination of Kharge, about my intentions. It doesn't bother me because the sort of establishment of the party has rallied around the top and that's entirely their privilege. My decision to contest is an individual decision that I find myself becoming the voice of a large number of people who perhaps see themselves as voiceless in the party. As a result, I'm able to advance some ideas in the course of the campaign that represent their interests and wishes for all of us.

Many have raised concerns about the poll process. Do you believe it is done in a free and fair manner?
The fact is that if you want to play a game of cricket, we have to bat on the pitch that's available. As far as I'm concerned, I'm not going to make an issue of that. It's a challenge to contact 9100 people (Congress delegates eligible to vote in the party president election), when there's no relevant information. Not even 10 per cent of them have given their phone numbers. With the limited time available, we have to do our best to reach out to people.

What will be the Gandhis' role in the scheme of things, and why are they indispensable to the party?
They are indispensable because the party's DNA is linked to their DNA. The party would also be foolish to cast aside the invaluable benefits conferred by the extraordinary impact of the name, legacy and individual charisma of the Gandhis. Bharat Jodo Yatra is testimony to it. If they don't want to run the party, that's their privilege, or preference, but definitely it would be unwise of the party to use the extraordinary assets that they represent, I hope that they will stay fully involved.

Job on compassion ground a concession, not a right: SC

IN THE SC

'Modern edu doesn't address spirituality'

Emphasising the fact that education should ensure inculcation of ethical and moral values that shape intellect and every action of a student, former CJI NV Ramana has recently said that modern education system is not equipped to deal with 'moral' or 'spiritual' function of education that is imparted in modern institutions.

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

REMARKING that the object of employment on compassionate grounds is to enable the affected family to tide over a sudden crisis, the SC recently observed that appointment on compassionate ground is a concession not a right. A bench of Justices MR Shah and Krishna Murari said appointment on compassionate ground, for all the government vacancies equal opportunity should be provided to all aspirants as mandated under Articles 14 and 16 of the Constitution. "Thus, as per the law laid down by this court in the aforesaid decisions, compassionate appointment is an exception to the general rule of appointment in the public services and is in favour of the dependents of a deceased dying in harness and leaving his family in penury and without any means of livelihood, and in such cases, out of pure humanitarian consideration taking into consideration the fact that unless some source of livelihood is provided, the family would not be able to make both ends meet, a provision is made in the rules to provide gainful employment to one of the dependants of the deceased who may be eligible for such employment. The whole object of granting compassionate employment is, thus, to enable the family to tide over the sudden crisis. The objective is not to give such a family a post much less a post held by the deceased," the court said.

Whole object of granting compassionate employment is, thus, to enable the family to tide over the sudden crisis. The object is not to give such a family a post much less a post held by the deceased

Supreme Court bench

The court's observations came in a plea filed by Fertilisers and Chemicals Travancore against Kerala HC's order directing the company to consider the case of a woman for appointment on compassionate ground. While allowing the company's plea, the bench said woman shall not be entitled to appointment on compassionate grounds on the death of her father in 1995. Setting aside the HC verdict, it said both the single judge and the bench were wrong.

Article 14 of the Constitution deals with equality before law and Article 16 with equality of opportunity in matters of public employment.

Cong asks office-bearers not to back prez hopefuls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Congress party on Monday asked party office-bearers not to campaign for candidates contesting election for the post of party president. This has been done to show that the party has been neutral and there is no official candidate for the post.

The party issued a set of guidelines for the election in which it said that those who wish to support any candidate will have to first resign from their organisational post.

The guidelines issued by the Congress central election authority said Mallikarjun Kharge and Shashi Tharoor are contesting the Congress president's election in their personal capacity and "the delegates are free to elect any one of them, as per their choice, through ballot paper".

It said the AICC general secretaries/in-charges, secretaries, joint secretaries, Pradesh Congress Committee (PCC) presidents, Congress Legislature Party (CLP) leaders, heads of frontal organisations, chiefs of departments, cells and all official spokespersons "shall not campaign for or against contesting candidates".

"If they wish to support any candidate, they must first resign from their organisational post," it said. The polling for the Congress presidential election will be held on October 17. The counting of votes will be taken up on October 19 and the results will be declared the same day.

More than 9,000 Pradesh Congress Committee (PCC) delegates will vote in the poll.

The Congress asked all PCC presidents to extend courtesy to the candidates during their visits to the respective states.

The PCC presidents will provide and arrange a meeting hall, chairs and other public announcement equipment for the candidate who wishes to hold the meeting of PCC delegates, it said.

'More kids die of cancer in India than in rich countries'

COUNTRY OF CANCER CHILDREN

The disease is killing increasing number of children in India compared to developed countries due to delay in diagnosis and lack of access to treatment

40% rate of survival of kids with cancer in India

80% and more of paediatric cancer cases in kids can be treated and cured in high-income countries

Most common primary sites of pediatric cancers include blood, bone and brain

49% of paediatric cancers in India remain undiagnosed

Childhood cancers, in the 0-14- age group, account for 4% of all cancers

Most common malignancies include leukaemia, lymphoma, central nervous system tumours like glioma and medulloblastoma

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

INDIA is reporting higher childhood cancer deaths as compared to some of the developed countries like the UK and Canada due to various reasons, mainly delayed diagnosis, lack of access to treatment, shortage of skilled workforce, lack of beds, and need of equipment, said a latest first-of-its-kind comprehensive report.

The report by the National Centre for Disease Informatics and Research under the Indian Council of Medical Research, Bengaluru, in collaboration with the World Health Organisation (WHO)-India, said childhood cancers (0-14 years) comprise four per cent of all reported cancers in the ICMR-NCDIR's national cancer registry programme. According to Dr Prashant Mathur, Director, NCDIR, they found barriers in providing timely and optimal treatment to children with cancers in the country. "Delayed diagnosis and treatment could lead to higher rates of deaths and poor survival," Mathur said, adding that the study is the first of its kind comprehensive report covering 26 states and four union territories in India to assess infrastructure, facilities, drug availability, finances, skills, training, research and barriers towards optimal childhood cancer care services. The report, 'A situational analysis of childhood cancer care services in India 2022,' said the age-adjusted incidence rate (AAR) of childhood cancer (0-14 years) worldwide is 140.6 per million person-years.

In India, New Delhi shows the highest AARpm among boys (203.1) and girls (125.4), while in southern India, Chennai ranks second among boys (146.7) and third among girls (52.7) in childhood cancer incidence.

In the northeast, the AARpm was the highest in Aizawl among boys and girls (133.9 and 91.4, respectively). The study found a higher incidence in males compared to females.

The study said nearly 49 per cent of paediatric cancers in India remain undiagnosed. "Delayed diagnosis and treatment lead to poorer outcomes. Inadequate/incomplete treatment prolongs the disease and its associated complications. These children are unable to attain optimal growth and development," he added.

The study, based on a survey in 137 tertiary level hospitals, and 92 secondary level hospitals, said the most common primary sites of pediatric cancers include blood, bone, and brain. Some of the most common malignancies include leukaemia, lymphoma, central nervous system (CNS), tumours of the bone and soft tissue and "blastomas" that affect different solid organs. "Most pediatric cancers are curable with long survival when diagnosed and treated timely," Dr Mathur said.

He added that the current cancer control initiatives are more tuned to deal with adult cancers. "A childhood cancer policy is the need of the hour," he said, adding that there is a need to create awareness among doctors who deal with children, other health professionals, parents and society.

The report found that the lack of essential infrastructure for diagnosing and treating childhood cancer — seen equally in both public and private hospitals — is one of the significant causes of treatment abandonment.

STRINGENT LAW

MCOCA for smuggling liquor from Goa to Maha

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

PEOPLE bringing liquor from Goa to Maharashtra illegally will now be slapped with charges under Maharashtra Control of Organised Crime Act (MCOCA). Interestingly, the MCOCA is mostly invoked in the cases of serious and organised crime in the state.

Maharashtra Excise Minister Shambhuraj Desai said that if a person is bringing liquor more than permissible limits thrice then he will be charged under MCOCA. He said that the liquor permit given by the Goa excise to carry the liquor will not be entertained in Maharashtra.

"Laws of Goa and Maharashtra are different and they cannot be applicable in each other's states. We have to take this harsh step to stop the liquor flow from Goa to Maharashtra and increase our excise revenue. We have to stop the smuggling of liquor under any conditions," Desai added.

"We have asked the Kolhapur and Sindhudurg district to prepare the draft and send it to police to invoke the MCOCA in liquor smuggling cases. The transport of liquor from Goa to Maharashtra has been on a rise. We have to take stringent actions against the transport of illicit liquor in Maharashtra. We have also asked the authorities to set up the temporary check posts at the border of both states to keep a tab on illegal transport activities," Desai added.

Meanwhile, Maharashtra Congress general secretary Sachin Sawant said that the Shinde government should first understand the MCOCA and its gravity. "The MCOCA is for the hardcore criminals and not against tourists. The government can use other IPC sections in a stringent way. Maharashtra should not go the Uttar Pradesh way," said Sawant.

The major reason behind transport of liquor from Goa to Maharashtra is prices of liquor. There are almost 30 to 50 per cent differences in prices of Maharashtra and Goa liquor prices therefore many people indulge in liquor smuggling.

Bypoll season: BJP faces test in Bihar, Maha

EC announces by-elections in 6 states – Bihar, Maharashtra, UP, Telangana, Odisha and Haryana – for 7 seats

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Raipur

POLITICAL temperature across six states is set to rise following the Election Commission's announcement of by-elections for seven Assembly seats on November 3. Besides Bihar and Maharashtra, the other states include UP (one in Gola Karan Nath in Lakhimpur Kheri), Telangana (Munigode/ Nalgonda), Odisha (Dhamnagar-SC) and Haryana (Adampur).

Bihar and Maharashtra will witness two and one by-elections each, respectively. For the BJP it will be a testing ground, especially after the party's break-up with Nitish Kumar-led JD-U a couple of months back. The seats going to the polls are Mokama and Gopalganj.

Similarly in Maharashtra, the BJP will get a hint of the people's mood following its ascension to power with a Shiv Sena faction led by Eknath Shinde, in Andheri-East.

In Bihar, the two by-elections will be equally significant for the ruling 'grand alliance' that includes the JD-U, RJD and Congress besides four other parties. As per the schedule announced by the ECI, nominations will start on Oct 7. Contestants can withdraw their names till Oct 17 and the polling will take place on Nov 3. The vote is due Nov 6.

The Mokama seat fell vacant after the termination of membership of RJD MLA Anant Singh following his conviction in a criminal case. The death of sitting BJP MLA Subhash Singh necessitated a by-poll in Gopalganj.

While Mokama is considered an RJD bastion, Gopalganj had earlier been represented by the BJP for four consecutive terms. In Maharashtra, Andheri East belonged to Shiv Sena MLA Ramesh Latke, who died in May this year in Dubai after a heart attack. While the Uddhav Thackeray-led Shiv Sena has fielded Latke's wife Rutuja in the election, the BJP is fielding former corporator Murji Patel.

The Andheri by-poll will take place before the cash-rich civic body BMC goes to the polls. It will be a litmus test for the Shiv Sena, which has split vertically after a revolt.

Ahead of investor meet, Gehlot plays 'feel good factor'

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

AMID political crisis in the state Congress, Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot is doing his best to project a 'feel good factor' in Rajasthan. For the first time since the huge revolt by MLAs a week ago, CM Gehlot held a press conference in Jaipur on Invest Rajasthan Summit-2022 on Monday. Announcing the final preparations for the upcoming Summit on October 7 and 8, even amid speculations of changing the Chief Minister, Gehlot exuded confidence at the press conference.

India's leading industrialists like Mukesh Ambani and Gautam Adani Group will also make major investments in the renewable energy sector in Rajasthan at this Summit. Mukesh Ambani's Reliance New Solar has tied up with the Rajasthan government for an investment of about ₹1 lakh crore in the state. Adani Green Energy has expressed its desire to set up energy projects worth ₹60,000 crore. In this summit to be held in Sitapura in Jaipur, the government has set a target of investment of ₹10 lakh crore. Gehlot has approved customized packages for 32 projects for promotion of investment worth more than ₹1.42 lakh crore in the state. Also, the state claims the projects will provide jobs to over 32,000 people in the state.

Besides, Ambani and Adani, Steel King Laxmi Mittal is also expected to participate in a big way at the Invest Rajasthan Summit-2022. About 50 MoU-LOIs have been done in energy sector. Gehlot said that "wherever the states do investment summits, the success rate is 20 to 25 per cent. But it will be far more successful in our place"

CM Gehlot said that the state government is dedicated to removing the hurdles in investment. To increase investment, the government has provided many facilities to investors through MSME Policy-2022, Handicraft Policy-2022, Tourism Promotion Policy-2022, Rajasthan Investment Promotion Scheme-RIPS-2019), Rajasthan Industrial Development Policy-2019 and One Stop Shop System. Amidst the ongoing political developments in Rajasthan, Gehlot said that "what happens in politics is not visible. What is seen is not what happens." He also asserted that "no matter where I live, I will never be far from Rajasthan, Jodhpur and Mahamandir where I was born."

During this media interaction, CM Gehlot tried to send out a message that the political crisis in the state is easing out. Besides the 'Invest Rajasthan Summit', While uncertainty prevails over his political future and how his tussle with Sachin Pilot will be resolved, CM Gehlot is keen to project an air of confidence and normalcy in his regime.

RJD ex-mantri takes battle to CM turf, says will flag farmer issues

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

A day after his resignation as Bihar agriculture minister, RJD leader Sudhakar Singh on Monday said he would continue to raise issues concerning farmers both inside and outside the Assembly.

"When I talk about farmers' problems and oppose corruption, some people feel bad. People sitting in power become restless. Officers and employees have become masters," he remarked while addressing a 'kisan sabha' at Adhaura in Kaimur district.

"If necessary, I will also raise farmers' issues on the floor of the House besides doing so on road," he added.

According to sources Singh, who is the son of Bihar RJD president Jagdanand Singh, was asked to resign from the ministerial post by Deputy Chief Minister Tejashwi Yadav when he was in his assembly constituency of Ramgarh in Kaimur district. This is despite the fact that Jagdanand is known for his close proximity to RJD chief Lalu Prasad Yadav. Sudhakar's exit shows that Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar and Tejashwi are not ready to allow a situation of mistrust to develop between the alliance partners.

Nitish was also disturbed by the way Singh was raising the issue of corruption in the agriculture department, and questioning the benefits derived from the second and third agricultural roadmaps, which were prepared with much enthusiasm by his government.

Sudhakar himself is allegedly involved in a rice scam. When he was inducted into the state cabinet, former deputy chief minister and BJP MP Sushil Kumar Modi said that Sudhakar faced the accusation of siphoning ₹5.31 crore in the 2013 rice scam.

Tribals threaten stir demanding Sarna code

To mount pressure on the Centre to include the Sarna religious code in the census, tribal organisations from Odisha, Bengal, Bihar, Assam and Jharkhand have threatened a rail blockade on November 30. Meanwhile, Adivasi Sengal Abhiyan, one of the tribal outfits led by wformer Mayurbhanj MP Salkhan Murmu, will organise 'peaceful' dharnas during the intervening two months in the five states. The tribal leader claimed that the day-long rail blockade would affect the states from where bulk of minerals and ores were transported through the railways. The tribals in Jharkhand, who are Sarna followers, have been fighting for a separate religious identity in India for decades.

IIM-R support in setting up model schools

Indian Institute of Management (IIM) Ranchi will be supporting Jharkhand government in establishing 405 Adarsha Vidyalaya (model schools) across the State for the next three years. According to MoU signed with Jharkhand Education Project Council (JEPC), IIM Ranchi will impart leadership training to the head masters of model schools. In the first phase of training programme, headmasters of 80 model schools will be trained. The training programme will be held at the IIM campus and JEPC facilities. This MoU also consists of an impact assessment by IIM Ranchi to evaluate the effectiveness of the training programme.

Jharkhand focus on farm credit scheme

Jharkhand, which is on the verge of drought-like situation, has set an ambitious target of linking 25 lakh farmers with the Kisan Credit Card (KCC) scheme by March 2023. The KCC loan is available to farmers at seven per cent interest rate, with a waiver of three per cent of the interest by the Centre, when the loan is repaid within the time limit. KCC has proved to be a boon for the farmers, who are not only getting loans that aid their agrarian practices but also liberate them from the clutches of moneylenders. The number of KCC beneficiary farmers as on September 15 stood at 19,18,511, an addition of 5,34,331 since September 2021.

Fire at Durga pandal leaves 5 dead in UP

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

FIVE people died and dozens sustained severe burn injuries in a pandal fire that broke out in Bhadohi district of Uttar Pradesh late on Sunday night.

The incident took place at the Durga Puja pandal when it caught fire at the time of aarti in Aurai town.

According to sources, around 150 people were believed to be present inside the pandal when the incident happened. The pandal was given a shape of the cave with only one exit.

Five persons of puja pandal committee were arrested in connection with the mishap. However, the police sources claimed that prima facie halogen light seemed to be the reason behind the fire.

Bhadohi DM Gaurang Rathi said that three boys, aged 12, 10 and 8 respectively, and two women, aged 45 and 48, lost their lives in the tragedy.

The critically injured survivors were rushed to Banaras Hindu University (BHU) Trauma Centre in Varanasi through a green corridor.

"Soon after getting information that the victims are being brought to BHU Trauma centre, we created a Green Corridor to ensure hassle-free transportation of the victims," Varanasi police commissioner A Satish Ganesh said.

Following the incident, Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath instructed ADG Prabhat Kumar, Vindhyachal Divisional Commissioner Yogesh Ram Mishra and DIG RP Singh to conduct inspection of all the puja pandals in the district to ensure the compliance of fire safety norms.

The chief minister asked the officials to close the pandals found flouting rules.

Run-up to Gujarat polls: Dalit writer among 3 join AAP, BJP neta sacked

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

AS the Gujarat assembly elections draw nearer, the political scenario in the state is witnessing heightened activity. The Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) on Monday welcomed three prominent faces into the fold while BJP state chief CR Patil suspended spokesman Kishansinh Solanki from the party for six years for posting a photo with Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann on social media.

Chetan Raval, the son of former state home minister Prabodh Raval, joined the AAP saying he was encouraged by Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal's "people-oriented approach". Raval, a former president of a city unit of the Congress, had resigned from the party on Saturday, and accused the Congress, saying, "Big problems like inflation, unemployment, deteriorating healthcare system, and deteriorating education system in the whole country and especially in Gujarat are increasing day by day but Congress had failed to rise and solve people's issues." Prabodh Raval was the state's home minister in the 1980s under Madhavsinh Solanki and was also a two-time Congress state unit president.

Also joining the AAP were Nita Mehta, the daughter of former chief minister Chhabildas Mehta, and Dalit writer Sunil Jadav, who returned a state government award in 2017 as a mark of protest.

Mehta made the move a day after meeting Kejriwal, who was on a two-day visit to the state on Saturday and Sunday. The social worker said she joined AAP due to Kejriwal's governance in Delhi and his fight against inflation.

On the other hand, Jadav said the ruling BJP dispensation in Gujarat had failed to eradicate the issue of untouchability. The three joined AAP in the presence of party's national joint secretary, Indranil Rajguru.

Meanwhile, Solanki was expelled from the BJP for indulging in "anti-party activities".

BJP spokesperson Yagnesh Dave said, "The party does not compromise with discipline. Solanki posted a photo with an AAP leader. In the past too, he was removed as a media penalist due to indiscipline. He also spread negative messages against state leaders and party programmesin private conversations."

Plaints against 45 babus, HC seeks govt response

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

CHHATTISGARH High Court hearing a public interest litigation (PIL) over the apparent excessive delay or little action being initiated on the long pending complaints against the 45 IAS officers has asked the state government to file the complete reply by November 16.

The petitioner Rajkumar Mishra, RTI activist, contended that the action against such complaints should have been taken within six months but there are complaints filed in 2008 and 2010. "It seems the government is yet to make up its mind on whether there should be any probe or not over all these complaints against the IAS officers. I tried securing an update response from the concerned department on action taken. When nothing seems to have moved on my representation, I moved a PIL last year, said Mishra, who usually contests his PIL before the court.

It seems the government is yet to make up its mind on whether there should be any probe or not over all these complaints against the IAS officers.
Rajkumar Mishra, RTI activist

It was during the earlier BJP regime led by Dr Raman Singh, when to a query in the state Assembly in 2016, the House was informed by the former chief minister that there are complaints pending against 45 IAS officers. The charges against the IAS also included some of the cases registered with the ACB /EOW. The Congress government though had submitted its response before the court mentioning the IAS officers, the nature of complaints pending against them and relevant details but during the recent proceedings has again sought more time to file a better reply, the petitioner added.

SWEDEN'S SVANTE PAABO WINS NOBEL MEDICINE PRIZE

He pioneered ways to extract, analyse Neanderthal DNA

STOCKHOLM

SWEDISH paleogeneticist Svante Paabo, who sequenced the genome of the Neanderthal and discovered the previously unknown hominin Denisova, on Monday won the Nobel Medicine Prize.

"By revealing genetic differences that distinguish all living humans from extinct hominins, his discoveries provide the basis for exploring what makes us uniquely human", the Nobel committee said in a statement. Paabo, director of the department of genetics at the Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology, found that gene transfer had occurred from these now extinct hominins to Homo sapiens following the migration out of Africa around 70,000 years ago.

"This ancient flow of genes to present-day humans has physiological relevance today, for example affecting how our immune system reacts to infections", the jury said.

Covid-19 patients with a snippet of Neanderthal DNA run a higher risk of severe complications from the disease, Paabo reported in a 2020 study.

Paabo, 67, who takes home the award sum of 10 million Swedish kronor, will receive the prize from King Carl XVI Gustaf at a formal ceremony in Stockholm on December 10, the anniversary of the 1896 death of scientist Alfred Nobel who created the prizes in his last will and testament.

Last year, the Medicine Prize went to US pair David Julius and Ardem Patapoutian for discoveries on receptors for temperature and touch, which have been used to develop treatments for a wide range of diseases and conditions, including chronic pain. The Nobel season continues this week with the announcement of the winners of the Physics Prize on Tuesday and the Chemistry Prize on Wednesday. They will be followed by the much-anticipated prizes for Literature on Thursday and Peace on Friday, while the Economics Prize winds things up on Monday, October 10. For the Literature Prize on Thursday, literary critics told AFP they thought the Swedish Academy may go for a more mainstream author this year, after selecting lesser-known writers the past two years.

Last year, Tanzanian author Abdulrazak Gurnah won, while US poet Louise Gluck was crowned in 2020.

US novelist Joyce Carol Oates, France's Annie Ernaux and Maryse Conde, Russia's Lyudmila Ulitskaya and Canada's Margaret Atwood have all been cited as potential laureates if the committee has its eyes on a woman.

Online betting sites however have France's Michel Houellebecq as the favourite, ahead of British author Salman Rushdie, who was the victim of an attempted murder attack in August. But it is the Peace Prize that is expected to hold special significance this year.

After Russian journalist Dmitry Muratov won the prize last year together with his Philippine colleague Maria Ressa in the name of freedom of expression, will the Norwegian Nobel Committee award another anti-Putin prize after Moscow's invasion of Ukraine?

Not since World War II has a conflict raged between two countries so close to Oslo.

The International Criminal Court, tasked with investigating war crimes in Ukraine, and the International Court of Justice — both based in The Hague — have been mentioned as possible laureates this year. AP

Sapien-Neanderthal connect

- Paabo spearheaded the development of new techniques that allowed researchers to compare the genome of modern humans and that of other hominins
- He found that gene flow had occurred from Neanderthals to Homo sapiens and that this transfer of genes affects how the immune system of modern humans reacts to infections
- Paabo and his team also managed to extract DNA from a tiny finger bone found in a cave in Siberia, leading to the recognition of a new species of ancient humans they called 'Denisovans'

New gains for Ukraine in strategic Kherson region

KYIV

UKRAINIAN troops continued to push forward on Monday with their offensive that has embarrassed Moscow, with Kyiv officials and foreign observers hinting at new gains in the strategic southern region of Kherson that the Kremlin wants to annex.

Kherson has been one of the toughest battlefields for the Ukrainians, with slower progress when compared with Ukraine's breakout offensive around the country's second largest city of Kharkiv, in the northeast, that began last month. Kherson is one of the four regions illegally annexed by Moscow last week after a "referendum" orchestrated by the Kremlin. The lower house of the Kremlin-controlled parliament is set to ratify the treaties on Monday, and the upper house will follow the next day.

Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said on Monday that two of those regions, Donetsk and Luhansk, are joining Russia with their administrative borders that existed before a conflict erupted there in 2014 between pro-Russian separatists and Ukrainian forces.

He noted that the issue of the borders of the two other regions Zaporizhzhia and Kherson remains open.

"We will continue to discuss that with residents of those regions," Peskov said in a conference call with reporters. He did not provide additional details. Ukrainian media outlets on Monday highlighted an image of Ukrainian troops displaying flags at a marker for the village of Khreshchenivka, which is in the same area of Kherson where troops apparently have broken through Russian lines. Ukraine has pressed its counteroffensive in the Kherson region since the summer, relentlessly pummeling Russian supply lines and making inroads into the areas west of the Dnieper River held by the Russians. The Ukrainian military has successfully used US-supplied HIMARS multiple rocket launchers to repeatedly hit the main bridge across the Dnieper in the city of Kherson and a dam that served as a second main crossing. AFP

BSNL to complete 4G roll-out in 12-18 months

Company says it would also start deploying 5G network in 2023

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

STATE-OWNED telecom operator Bharat Sanchar Nigam Limited (BSNL) will take 12 to 18 months to roll out 4G services in the country.

Chairman and Managing Director (CMD) P K Purwar speaking to TNIE on the sidelines of India Mobile Congress said the firm will start procuring 4G equipment from November 2022, and it would take another year or so to roll out the services. "We are likely going to source 4G equipment in November. Once we get the equipment, we will immediately start rolling out 4G service. As BSNL has a vast network in the entire country, it would take more than a year to rollout in the entire country," said Purwar.

As India officially ushered in the era of 5G technology on October 1, BSNL is nowhere in the picture for 5G, which will give ultra-high-speed Internet connectivity. Its competitors Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel and Vodafone Idea have either launched its 5G services, or about to launch in the next few weeks. It is believed BSNL is facing logistics problems as the firm will have to use only indigenously developed technology to upgrade to 4G network. For procurement of equipment, BSNL is in talks with IT major TCS and a consortium led by state-run C-DOT. When asked about the 5G launch, Purwar said the telco would start deploying the 5G network in 2023. Telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw had earlier said the state-owned company would launch 5G by 15th of August 2023.

"After deployment of 4G, we will start rolling out 5G services too. We will begin with a few places or cities initially," said Purwar. An official from Tejas Network, a part of the Tata group that will provide Radio networks to the BSNL, said the company will start providing equipment from November 2022, subject to signing the deal. "The deal is yet to be signed. Once it is signed (between BSNL and Tejas Network), we will start dispatching our radio networks," he added.

Recently, the government infused ₹1.64 lakh crore relief package to save the telco. After announcing the package, the telecom minister Ashwani Vaishnaw gave BSNL a target to double the mobile subscriber base to 200 million via both 4G and 5G services.

State-run BSNL's 4G service launch plan

- BSNL to start procuring 4G equipment from November 2022
- It would take another year or so to roll out the services procuring equipment
- For equipment procurement, BSNL is in talks with IT major TCS and a consortium led by C-DOT
- BSNL is facing logistics problems as it will have to use only indigenously developed technology to upgrade to 4G

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FINTECH platform PhonePe on Monday said it has completed three significant steps toward relocating its headquarters from Singapore to India ahead of its IPO.

Over the past year, the company has moved all businesses and subsidiaries of PhonePe Singapore to PhonePe Pvt Ltd -India directly. This includes its insurance broking services and wealth broking businesses.

Secondly, the company's board recently approved the creation of a new ESOP plan and the migration of over 3000 PhonePe Group employees' existing ESOPs by issuing new ESOPs under PhonePe India's new plan.

Finally, under the newly liberalised automatic ODI rules, PhonePe has also moved the ownership of recently acquired IndusOS Appstore (OSLabs Pte Ltd) from Singapore to India.

The digital payments company has plans to go public in 2023. Recently, the company announced that it has tokenised 1.4 crore debit and credit cards on its platform. This is as per RBI's Card Tokenisation mandate to help control the risk of fraudulent activities.

Market starts on a sombre note in festive month of Oct

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STARTING the festive month of October on a sombre note, India's equity market on Monday erased most of Friday's gain as muted global cues are showing no signs of improvement. The BSE Sensex settled at 56,789, down 638 points or 1.11% while the NSE Nifty50 closed 207 points, or 1.21%, lower at 16,887.

A host of cumulative factors such as concerns over the financial health of Credit Suisse, which is reminding many investors of the 2008 Lehman Brother collapse, worsening Russia-Ukraine war situation, US Federal Reserve's hawkish stance on future interest rate hikes and no signs of inflations cooling down have spooked investors. Add to it, premium valuation of the Indian market, spike in US bond yields and weakening of Indian rupee has made the local market less attractive for foreign institutional investors. Among the Sensex participants, Maruti Suzuki fell maximum by 3.16%, followed by HUL, IndusInd Bank, ITC and Bajaj Finance. Dr Reddy's, NTPC, Bharti Airtel and Wipro were the winners.

As per Prashanth Tapse - research analyst, Senior VP (Research), Mehta Equities, Fed's emergency closed board meeting later during the day made markets nervous. "Nifty was unable to sustain Friday's spectacular strength on negative sentiments on the global markets. Moreover, the latest US data on inflation (personal consumption and expenditures index) indicates that Fed tightening is justified and more hikes are on the way," Tapse said. Vinod Nair, head of research at Geojit Financial Services, feels global markets are expected to stay under pressure due to the confluence of an unfavourable economic outlook and investor risk aversion. The Indian rupee moved closer to its record lows against the US dollar and closed at 81.8725 against the greenback, declining by 0.65% in the interbank forex market.

ONDC to charge retailers one-fourth of Amazon, Flipkart

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

ONDC, the government-backed open network e-commerce platform, will cost small retailers a quarter of what they pay to e-commerce platforms like Amazon and Flipkart to access their technologies and processes.

Government sources told TNIE that small retailers can access the ONDC platform at 8-10% of the selling price of products compared to 18-40% that they pay to Amazon and Flipkart.

A commerce ministry official, however, said that it is the market that would dictate the fee/commission charged on the platform and not the government. "We have no intention of fixing any cap on commission charged by the platform, it would be purely decided by the market forces," said the official. The official explained that for any existing e-commerce platforms like Flipkart or Amazon to be part of the ONDC they will have to bring both their sellers and buyers on the platform.

The platform will host buyer and seller apps separately, unlike e-commerce platforms like Amazon and Flipkart, which are both buyers and sellers platforms. The official, however, said that none of the top e-commerce platforms have evinced any interest so far for on-boarding on ONDC.

The Open Network for Digital Commerce (ONDC) started its beta testing process with small retailers across 16 pincodes in Bengaluru on Friday. ONDC, which is based on open specifications, will boost small merchant digitisation and e-commerce scale, and will reduce the dominance of big players such as Amazon and Walmart-backed Flipkart. It is an initiative of the Ministry of Commerce and Industry.

Three buyers apps – Paytm, Spicemoney and Mystore – were on the platform on the first day of the beta testing. As many as 11 seller apps, which basically are aggregators of small retailers and kirana stores, also integrated with the system on the first day.

Prosus scraps $4.7 billion pact to acquire BillDesk

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

LARGEST technology investor and global consumer internet group Prosus has called off the acquisition deal of BillDesk that it announced last year.

Last year, Prosus said that an agreement had been reached between PayU Payments Private Limited (PayU), a subsidiary of Prosus, and the shareholders of the Indian digital payments provider BillDesk to acquire BillDesk for $4.7 billion. BillDesk is one of the leading payment businesses in India.

"However, certain conditions precedent were not fulfilled by the 30 September 2022 long stop date, and the agreement has terminated automatically in accordance with its terms and, accordingly, the proposed transaction will not be implemented," Prosus said. The deal had received approval by the Competition Commission of India (CCI) last month. Netherlands-based Prosus has been a long-term investor and operator in India. Since 2005, it has so far invested close to $6 billion in Indian technology firms. Prosus said it is committed to the Indian market and growing its existing businesses within the region. Many customers use the products and services of companies that Prosus has invested in, acquired or built, including 99minutos, BYJU'S, LazyPay, letgo, Luno, Mensa Brands, Meesho, OLX, Pharmeasy and Swiggy, among others.

Suzlon to go ahead with ₹1,200 crore rights issue

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

SUZLON ENERGY on Monday said that the company will go ahead with its rights issue of Rs 1,200 crore. There were concerns in the market that after the demise of founder and CMD Tulsi Tanti, the proposed rights issue might get impacted.

The firm in an exchange filing on Monday said: "..the promoters and the promoter group have re-confirmed their participation in the proposed rights issue and have expressed their intention to subscribe to the full extent of their rights entitlement. Accordingly, the firm will continue to follow the schedule for the proposed rights issue set out in its letter of offer dated September 28, 2022." The firm on September 28 announced it would issue up to 240 crore partly paid-up equity shares for cash, at a price of ₹5 per rights equity share. The issue will open on October 11 and close on October 20. The funds raised via the issue will be used for repayment or pre-payment of a portion of certain outstanding borrowings availed by the company and its subsidiaries. Founder, chairman & managing director of Suzlon Energy Tulsi R Tanti passed away on Saturday after he suffered a cardiac arrest on the same day. Tulsi Tanti was 64. After Tanti's demise, the firm in a statement had said: "In this difficult time, the firm continues to be supported by its experienced board of directors and senior management who are both able and committed to take Tanti's legacy forward and realise his vision for the company."

Honda closes in on Hero to become top 2-wheeler manufacturer

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

JAPANESE automaker Honda Motorcycle & Scooter (HMSI) is closing in on Hero MotoCorp (HMCL), as the gap between its September 2022 sales and current market leader Hero's sales was just about 1,400 units.

HMSI on Monday reported that its total dispatches during September 2022 stood at 518,559 units (including 488,924 units in domestic and 29,635 exports) as compared to 481,908 units in September'21 (including 463,683 domestic sales & 18,225 exports). Hero MotoCorp, on the other hand, reported total dispatches of 519,980 units in September 2022, a minor fall from 530,346 units in September 2021.

While Hero led the domestic market with 507,690 units, 18,766 units more than Honda, its exports were 12,290 units, 5,935 units less than its erstwhile partner.

However, Hero has already slipped from its top position in the monthly domestic two-wheeler retail sales, as per the Vahan portal — which records vehicle registration data across India. As per the portal, HMCL sold 251,939 units in September 2022 as against Honda's 285,400 units.

SEPTEMBER 2022 TWO-WHEELER SALES (IN UNITS)

	Hero MotoCorp	Honda 2 Wheelers
Domestic	507,690	488,924
Exports	12,290	29,635
Total	519,980	518,559

Brokerage firm Elara Capital in a note said that the cause for concern for Hero is that in terms of market share in rural states, the home-grown firm has lost month-on-month (MoM) market share of 100-800 basis points. Another setback for Hero is the growing penetration of electric 2-Wheelers in the ₹60,000-Rs 90,000 category. Hero is likely to answer this by launching its first EV on October 7. Hero and Honda in March 2011 effectively ended their 26-year partnership. In FY2011, Hero commanded a market share of little less than 45% while Honda had a market share of little over 13%.

Crypto exchange WazirX lays off 60 employees

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

CRYPTO exchange WazirX has laid off 30% of its workforce or over 60 employees, sources confirmed on Friday (September 30).

It has been six months now since Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had announced 30% tax on crypto transactions, and from then on, the crypto industry has been struggling. This coupled with crypto winter and macro-economic situation, the exchanges are bearing the brunt.

Sources told TNIE all is not well with WazirX, which employs close to 200 people. First, it was the Enforcement Directorate probe and then there was clash with Binance over ownership.

The ED froze the exchange's bank accounts worth ₹64.67 crore in August and recently the crypto exchange said the agency has unfrozen its bank accounts and now the exchange will continue its banking operations as usual.

Though crypto exchanges' trading volumes have been declining in the last six months, sources said WazirX trading volumes have gone down to just 4 million a month from over 410 million during the same period last year. The crypto exchange has laid off employees from across different departments including communication. "We got a call on Friday morning and they told us we are being fired. This is a recession period and it is difficult to get a job now. Also, no severance pay has been announced," one of the former employees on condition of anonymity said. When asked whether Binance and WazirX have resolved their ownership issue, the sources said talks are still on and nobody knows when and how it will be resolved.

Soon after the ED probe, Binance, the largest crypto exchange, has disowned WazirX and also ceased off-chain fund transfer between the exchange and WazirX.

WazirX, in a statement, said, "The crypto market has been in the grip of a bear market because of the current global economic slowdown. The Indian crypto industry has had its unique problems with respect to taxes, regulations and banking access. This has led to a dramatic fall in volumes in all Indian crypto exchanges."

It said the exchange's priority is to be financially stable and to achieve this they had to reduce staff to weather the crypto winter.

Freebies should be capped at 1% of state GSDP: SBI report

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ADDING fuel to the already hot debate on freebies, a State Bank of India (SBI) research report on Monday termed the freebies announced by state governments as fiscal hara-kiri and appealed the Supreme Court panel to cap such freebies.

The report written by Soumya kanti Ghosh, Group Chief Economic Adviser, SBI, says if announcement of such freebies are not checked, they have the potential to economically ruin the country. It requested the SC panel to fix a band 'say 1% GSDP or 1% of state own tax collections or 1% to state revenue expenditure for these welfare schemes of the states'.

The Supreme Court in August this year decided to form a panel consisting of members of Niti Aayog, Finance Commission, RBI, election commission and political parties to study the impact of freebies on taxpayers and the economy. However, the apex court has deferred the formation of the panel for now.

After Prime Minister Narendra Modi in July this year termed the practice of political parties promising all kinds of freebies for votes as Revadi culture, this has become a big political issue with many opposition parties expressing strong reservation to the PM's statement. The SBI report points out that these freebies have large fiscal costs and cause inefficiencies by distorting prices and misallocating resources. It pointed out that if these freebies (announced recently by many states) are taken together with the contingent liabilities of states, they come around 10% of the GSDP for all the states combined.

As per the report, states like Punjab, Andhra Pradesh and Madhya Pradesh have been the biggest culprits when it comes to announcing such freebies. In 2022-23, freebies announced by Punjab account for 45% of its own tax revenue, 30% in case of Andhra Pradesh and 29% in case of MP.

SETTING THE BENCHMARK

Pole-vaulter Siva and lifter Sambo create national records on their way to glory

FIROZ MIRZA @Gandhinagar

AFTER rewriting his national record and clinching the gold here at the IIT Gandhinagar athletics track, pole-vaulter Siva Subramaniam left for hotel with the medal around his neck. However, when he was having dinner at the hotel, he realised he left his bag containing his belongings at the entry room of the venue. He immediately rushed back to the athletics tracks to reclaim it. Fortunately for him, he found it back with the yellow metal still hanging around his neck.

"I am on my way back to my hotel room. I didn't forget the medal but left the bag at the venue only. I got it now," Services' Siva told this newspaper. Despite breaking his own national record set in 2018, the athlete from Tamil Nadu was not satisfied. "I was regularly doing 5.40m during practice sessions in Nehru Stadium, Chennai. That's why I tried it here as well but cannot complete it. It will come as my target is clearing 5.70-5.75 in future," he added.

Earlier, he had surpassed the National Games record of 5.10m set by Vijay Pal Singh back in 1987 by clearing 5.11m. He then soared over 5.21m and asked for the bar at 5.31, with an eye on the record. He failed on the first try but wound himself up to clear it the next time.

"I attempted 5.31m during the inter-services meet in Bengaluru last month. I easily cleared 5.21m but failed to set the national record there. That was troubling me but now it's done. I will aim higher now.

Now the target is to win medals at the Asian Games and World Military Games," he said.

U Gokulnath of Services (4.90) and Rajasthan's Rambeer Singh (4.900 bagged the silver and bronze medals, respectively in the event. A couple of days ago, Tamil Nadu's Rosy Meena Paulraj bettered VS Surekha's eight-year-old national record with a 4.20m effort in the women's pole vault at the venue.

Bang on target

In March this year during the National Championships in Bhubaneswar, Odisha, Arunachal Pradesh's Sambo Lapung lifted 198kg in clean and jerk section but the lift was overruled by the panel of the judges. He won the 96kg gold but missed out on a chance to set the national record. Six months later, the ace lifter completed the job that was left unfinished in Bhubaneswar here at the Mahatma Mandir in Gandhinagar, Gujarat on his way to gold at the 2022 National Games. Lapung's effort of overall lift of 346kg, including the 148kg in snatch and 198kg record in clean and jerk, gave him the gold.

"It feels good to win gold at the National Games, but what's more important for me was the national record. I came here to compete with myself and I had an eye on the record. I have been lifting a heavier weight in training but my coach wanted me to get the monkey off my back first and start afresh," said Sambo Lapung after finishing on top of the podium.

He is third among six boys and three girls in the lower middle-class family and took up the sports just like his athlete sister Chitung Lapung. Initially, he wanted to become a boxer and joined the SAI centre in Itanagar. "Yes, I had first tried boxing only for about a year in 2008. But I gave it up. What's the point in getting thrashed both in the ring and off it?"

Speaking on the switch, he informed, "We used to train alongside weightlifters and I noticed that the weightlifting coach was much more lenient towards his wards than our boxing coach, who beat us up for the slightest of mistakes." He was so frustrated that he wanted to leave the centre itself but his sister persuaded him to make the switch instead of leaving the sport.

Born to a farmer from remote East Kameng district in the North-Eastern State, Sambo like many athletes in the country got into the sport so that he can arrange two meals and clothes.

Gujarat's Hinaben grappling her way out of past hardships

FIROZ MIRZA @Gandhinagar

IN her teens, Hinaben Khalifa used to accompany her mother Sugraben and elder sisters—Afsana and Madina — to various households in Vadagam of Aravalli district in Gujarat. Their job was to help their mother, who used to work as a house help, so that she can work at more houses and earn enough to make ends meet. Sugraben was forced to work as her husband, Salim Khalifa, got paralysed, rendering it impossible for him to continue earning for his family.

The ordeal continued for three years even as Hina and her sister Madina were aspiring to be a wrestler. The schedule was tight but the sisters didn't give up. They used to help their mother, attend school and train in the evening. The struggles are not over yet but all those hard yards put in then have started translating into success on the wrestling mat — the most recent one coming at the 2022 National Games. Hinaben, on Sunday, became only the second woman wrestler from Gujarat to clinch a National Games medal as she finished third in the 53kg weight category.

She began her campaign at the Mahatma Mandir in Gandhinagar with an easy win over Himachal Pradesh's Ritika and then won by technical superiority against Uttarakhand's Priyanka Sikarwar. She was, however, no match to eventual champion Antim Panghal of Haryana. But Hinaben regrouped herself in time for the bronze medal bout against Shivani and won 7-1.

"Our elder siblings Amjad and Afsana used to train in a makeshift wrestling centre in our village. They initiated us into the sport. Even as they left, we continued the training," sister Madina told this daily.

Vinod Kunjawat, a senior grappler from the village, started training them in 2015. They continued to train there till 2018 when Hinaben got an offer to join Gujarat's government Centre of Excellence (COE) in Nadiad. "She weighed around 22kg when she first came to my centre but she was hardworking. Both the sisters used to come to the centre in the evening as they had to accompany their mother in the morning to help her. I used to drop them home as they often got late in training," said Kunjawat.

Hinaben was a toddler when her father suffered a paralytic attack in Odisha. The tragedy turned their lives upside down. The situation, however, also made all the siblings find solace in sports. "Wrestling was our way out of poverty and all the misfortunes. My brother got selected to represent Gujarat in age-group nationals but mother got worried and didn't send him. Then I got an opportunity to compete in the U-14 national tournament in 2017," added Madina.

All of them were into wrestling but it was Hinaben who tasted success. Once she got selected for the COE in Nadiad, she improved leaps and bounds. She also bagged a bronze medal in the junior national in 2020 but the lockdown due to Covid-19 meant she could not make it to the camp. "Hina recently won 53kg silver in an U-20 tournament. However, she was very upset ahead of the National Games as she was not able to get desired results of late. Even at her centre, she doesn't get a good sparring partner which she feels is stagnating her growth. I hope this medal motivates her to do better," added the sister.

Both Hina and Madina are pursuing BPEd (Bachelor of Physical Education). Madina recently got a job as a trainer with the Sports Authority of Gujarat. "The financial situation has improved to some extent. Now we have stopped our mother from working as a maid. Now I only want Hina to find a place in the national camp and represent the country in the days to come."

The weight division Hinaben competes in is an Olympic category. Wrestlers like famed Vinesh Phogat and young sensation Antim will be her opponents if she wishes to find a place in the national squad. Despite the competition, Madina is confident that her sister will make her place if she continues to work hard like she did when she was a teenager.

EYES ON REDS AND SPURS

WITH THE CHAMPIONS LEAGUE RETURNING, FOCUS WILL TURN TO BOTH THE STRUGGLING ENGLISH CLUBS. IN THE CONTINENT, BARCELONA HAVE A CHANCE TO MAKE AN IMPRESSIVE STATEMENT...

LIVERPOOL VS RANGERS

Liverpool began matchday 1 in an inauspicious manner, being embarrassed by Napoli. With their questionable league form, this could be a stiff test of their credentials. If they don't pick up maximum points, they could already be facing some trouble in even getting out of the group.

EINTRACHT FRANKFURT VS TOTTENHAM

Antonio Conte is a good manager but the way he sets his side Tottenham doesn't win a lot of fans. So, it's all in on the results. And with a big defeat in the North London Derby, coupled with an opening day loss in Europe, he could already be feeling the pressure against German opposition.

INTER VS BARCELONA

For all their pre-season spending, Barcelona haven't allowed that to affect their progress. They have just conceded one goal in the league, picking up 19 of 21 points. In Europe, they are in a two-way tussle with Tuesday's opposition to finish second. Win and they could have one foot

2

Liverpool have kept only two clean sheets all season, both of them coming in the Premier League.

Opener Meghana grabs chance with both hands

GOMESH S @Chennai

SABBINENI Meghana's return to the Indian team was not an easy journey. She literally broke down the doors of selections with the sheer volume of runs she made. Since domestic cricket began in the post-pandemic era, she has amassed 980 runs across formats in just 20 innings. Her role in Railways winning the titles in the last couple of years is undeniable.

Yet, since she made a comeback in the New Zealand tour before the 2022 ODI World Cup, Meghana has got to play only three ODIs and six T20Is (India played 11 ODIs and 12 T20Is with her in the squad). Being an opener in a team with Smriti Mandhana and Shafali Verma meant she seldom got to play and when she did, Meghana was batting at No 3 or lower, especially in the shortest format.

In fact, Monday's Asia Cup tie against Malaysia was the first time the 26-year-old opened the batting for India in a T20I this year. And Meghana ensured that she made the most of it, hitting her maiden T20I fifty, helping India post their second consecutive win of the tournament in the rain-curtailed clash.

Sabbineni Meghana hit 69 off 53 balls to help India beat Malaysia on Monday | ACC

On a pitch that was slow and low, Meghana put on a hitting exhibition as she started her innings with a six over extra cover boundary. Through the 53-ball knock, Meghana kept lofting bowlers at will — something she is well known for in the domestic circuit — in the 'V' region down the ground. What stood out was her dominance while batting with Shafali in the powerplay as Meghana contributed 36 of the 47 runs India scored during that phase.

Even as the field spread out, Meghana continued to make merry hitting with the vertical bat both along the ground and over the in-field, picking up boundaries. She finished with 69 runs from 53 balls as India finished with 181/4 in 20 overs. Malaysia were 16/2 in 5.2 overs before rain stopped play. "It is always special to score runs for the team and represent the country," the 26-year-old said after the match. "Shafali was really supportive, this was my first game in a long time, so her support in the partnership was very important," she added.

Earlier, Harmanpreet Kaur had said that the tournament will be all about giving game time for those who have not played much. On Monday, India rested three of their mainstays for the same reason. Meghana showed what she was capable of and why she should be playing more often than she has. If she continues her good form, it would be a headache India would not mind having.

Brief scores: India 181/4 in 20 ovs (Meghana 69, Shafali 49; Syuhada 2/9) bt Malaysia 16/2 in 5.2 ovs by 30 runs (D/L method).

One last rehearsal

With India in experimentation mode for the third T20I in Indore, expect a much changed outfit. But there will still be some focus on a few specific positions and players ahead of the WC. A look...

ALL EYES ON PACERS ARSHDEEP AND HARSHAL

With Jasprit Bumrah ruled out of the T20 World Cup, Arshdeep Singh and Harshal Patel are that bit closer to be forming part of first XI. The latter especially has lost his mojo a bit so with the pressure off, can he come up with a morale-boosting show?

PANT THE OPENER

With KL Rahul rested, there are chances that Rishabh Pant could be promoted to open the batting. Game time has been limited but the wicket-keeper is a maverick with a bat in hand. With Dinesh Karthik seemingly first choice, Pant can add to the head-ache if he fires.

India vs Pak on Feb 12 in Cape Town

ENS @Chennai

INDIA will take on Pakistan in their opening game of the 2023 Women's T20 World Cup on February 12 at Newlands, Cape Town. As the tournament's schedule was announced on Friday, hosts South Africa will get the tournament underway against Sri Lanka at the same venue on February 10, 2023.

In the 10-team tournament, India are in Group B with England, Ireland, Pakistan and West Indies. Meanwhile, South Africa, Sri Lanka, Australia, New Zealand and Bangladesh are part of Group A.

The top two teams from each group will qualify for the semi-finals with the summit clash to be played in Cape Town on February 26.

India will play West Indies on February 15 in Cape Town before travelling to Gqeberha for their games against England and Ireland on February 18 and 20, respectively.

Currently taking part in the Asia Cup in Bangladesh, India have close to 16 games before the marquee tournament begins. They will reach South Africa earlier than others as they will be playing in a tri-series featuring hosts and West Indies in January to get acclimatised to the conditions.

Having reached the finals of the 2020 edition and the Commonwealth Games recently, the Harmanpreet Kaur-led side would want to surpass the final hurdle and get hold of the trophy this time around in South Africa.

Swiatek to miss BJK Cup finals, questions calendar

AFP @Paris

WOMEN'S tennis World No 1 Iga Swiatek criticised governing bodies for not organising the calendar better as she announced on Monday she will not play for Poland in the Billie Jean King Cup finals in Glasgow in November.

The BJK Cup — which is organised by the International Tennis Federation — begins on November 8, the day after the prestigious season-ending WTA finals reaches a climax in Fort Worth, Texas. Swiatek posted a statement on her Instagram account saying that after a long discussion with her advisors she had decided it would not be good for her health to play.

"I will not be able to play at the Billie Jean King Cup at Glasgow," she said. "And it makes me sad.

"I'm very sorry, because I play for Poland whenever it's possible and I always give it my best."

Swiatek said she was going to address the issue of the scheduling with both the ITF and the WTA.

Saurashtra show fight, RoI remain favourites

RAJKOT: Saurashtra's middle and lower-order showed a lot of stomach for fight, adding 281 runs by No 6 to 8 batters, but Rest of India remained firm favourites to win the Irani Cup match here on Monday. At stumps on third day, Saurashtra reached to 368/8, riding on half-centuries from the quartet comprising Sheldon Jackson (71), Arpit Vasavada (55), Prerak Mankad (72) and skipper Jaydev Unadkat (78 batting). The overall lead is 92 runs now and Saurashtra will like to stretch it to at least 175.

Brief Scores: Saurashtra 98 and 368/8 (Jaydev Unadkat 78 batting, Prerak Mankad 72, Sheldon Jackson 71, Cheteshwar Pujara 1, Saurabh Kumar 3/80, Kuldeep Sen 3/85) vs Rest of India 374.

World record

Australia's Ian Healy, on this day in 1998, surpassed his countryman Rod Marsh's tally of 355 dismissals behind the stumps

BEST WICKETKEEPER

Ian Healy was one of the best wicketkeepers. His ability to judge the turn and bounce of the ball while keeping to spinners made him one of the most admired glovemen in the world

ACHIEVEMENTS

When Healy finished his career in 1999, he left the international circuit as the most successful gloveman in the Test history of cricket

TRIMPHING THE FIELD

Healy's record stayed intact for as many as nine years before Mark Verdon Boucher broke it in 2007 against Pakistan in Karachi

FEAST, FUN AND FESTIVITY

Bengaluru-based celebrities speak to CE about what they have been doing during this festive season — BY TUNIR BISWAS

KRISHI THAPANDA

Like every year, I have been performing for Yuva Dasara, and I will be doing so this year as well. I did a tribute on September 30 and October 1 in Mysuru. I also did a special photoshoot for Navratri this year, a concept photoshoot about the nine different Shaktis and naris. I played the water queen in the shoot. I remember Dasara fell on my birthday once during my childhood in Madikeri. So after the birthday celebration, I went and joined the processions to perform. Back then, during the Madikeri Dasara, we used to watch all the shows, and they used to have this 'stars night' where all these stars and actors used to come, and I used to watch them perform. And this year, I'm part of the Yuva Dasara, and I feel like I've come full circle. I never thought I would be part of the stars performing during Dasara, so this makes me really happy.

DISHA MADAN

BEFORE I got married, we used to celebrate Dasara very minimally. But now, my mother-in-law's side of the family celebrates Dasara in a very grand way. She collects and displays dolls for about 10 days. Since I'm part of the film industry, I help by getting her in touch with certain people who would assist with the decor and make sure the display is grander than the previous year. We have had guests over to celebrate the festive season together.

SHWETHA SRIVASTAV

Now that I have a five-year-old child at my place, I think celebrating every festival of our culture is necessary to make our children understand the importance of these occassions. This year, we are celebrating it in a big way as this would be the first time my daughter would get to experience Dasara properly. So we are making sure everything looks happy, bright and colourful. We are displaying dolls and following all the important customs. We are also maintaining a healthy diet these days. Also, somehow every Vijaya Dashami, I have signed for a movie. This accidental tradition has been repeated this year as well, and I have signed up for a new movie. The formal proceedings haven't happened yet, so I can't reveal anything right now. But it is a pleasant surprise how this keeps happening almost every year.

ANURADHA BHAT

I am part of a lot of concerts for Dasara this year. I did one concert with Gurukiran sir, Vijay Prakash, Kunal Ganjawala and one with Arjun Janya. I have a concert with Gurukiran sir on October 5. I was born and brought up in Mangaluru, so this festival has been largely about doing pujas and also keeping my musical instruments for devotion. I would also visit my guru's place during Saraswati Puja.

PRIYANKA UPENDRA

Durga Puja has been consistent every year of my life. I either go to Kolkata or do puja at home. This year I'm in Bengaluru, and I'm shooting for a film. I recently visited the Bengalee Association. On other days, I have been doing puja at home, and after the bhog, I go for the shoot. In my childhood, since I was brought up in the US, we used to do puja in Los Angeles and do dance performances during Mahalaya. We were with all the Bengalis there. This year, I will also be visiting the Begur Bengali Cultural Association.

MEGHANA SAKSHI

I will be celebrating the festival at my house. In Navratri, there's a tradition of women dressing up as the nine devis. This year, I'm very happy I got to try not just one but two of the devi's looks for a concept show. Navratri means a lot to me as I've been celebrating this festival since my childhood. I used to play Garba and dance like anything.

SHINE SHETTY

Since I'm from Mangalaru, we don't celebrate this festival at home. Instead, we visit temples, and on Dasara, all the roads are blocked in Mangaluru. I will be visiting my hometown this year as well, which is a yearly tradition for me. Huge processions and the Puli Vesham dance (the tiger dance) happen, which is very big in the coastal parts of the state.

MELODY ON THE MENU

Vocalist Sawan Dutta's new series, Pet Pujo, is presented as musical compositions

MONIKA MONALISA

FESTIVAL time equals food coma. While many households are dishing out various recipes, vocalist Sawan Dutta is making it easy to make those Bengali delicacies at home, with her songs. Dutta, who is known for converting various recipes into unique songs, is doing a recipes series of Durga Pujo called Pet Pujo, which is a compilation of Bengali delicacies. Dutta recently moved to Bengaluru from Mumbai for personal reasons. Now, the singer is shuffling between two cities.

The series features recipes of some evergreen items without which any Durga Pujo feast would be incomplete. "Khichuri, labra, beguni, chutney, payesh, mangsho, maachh – ilish or other fish, shukto, lucchi-aloor dom, a whole range of sweets on Bijoya – these are all-time favourites. I've created recipe songs for quite a few of these - and I hope to complete the ones I haven't featured yet over the coming years," says Dutta, who made this series in collaboration with London-based Bengali restaurant, Chourangi. She tried to present the recipes with "quirkiness and humour" to ensure that a global audience can connect with it.

The first time that Dutta created the Pet Pujo series was in the year 2018. Again, she did the same during the pandemic. Although she has a unique sense of humour and the ability to put a song together, she mentions it to be quite challenging.

It takes about a week or two to write the song, compose the melody, create the musical arrangement, record the vocals and instruments, mix and master and finish the audio soundtrack. "These are some of the most difficult songs I've written because it's not enough to sing and record them, one has to make sure that the lyrics if followed, will result in a dish that is perfectly cooked," explains Dutta, who personally loves the Beguni and Chutney songs for their compositions.

Dutta started The Metronome in 2016, as an outlet for her personal music that was meant to run parallel with her commercial musical projects. "I never dreamt that it would become this popular worldwide," says Dutta.

FIT BIT

HALASANA HANDS ON BACK
(PLOUGH POSE HANDS ON BACK)

It is considered one of the most advanced yoga poses. It is quite simple to practise and contains a lot of benefits. For women, because of all the compression in the pelvic area, this asana can help to improve the circulation and tone the reproductive organs.

STEPS

- Come out from Salamba Sarvangasana (Supported Shoulder Stand), slowly exhale and bend from your hip joints to lower the toes to the floor above your head.
- Keep the torso perpendicular from the floor and the legs completely extended.
- When toes touch the floor, try to lift the top thighs and the tailbone toward the ceiling and try to draw the inner groins deep in the pelvis.
- Imagine that the torso is hanging from the height of the groins and continue to draw the chin away from the sternum as well as soften the throat.
- You can continue to press the hands against the back of the torso.
- Push your back up toward the ceiling as you press the back of your upper arms down, on the support. Or even release the hands away from the back and stretch the arms out behind the floor, opposite of your legs.
- Clasp your hands together and press your arms actively down on a support, as you try to lift the thighs towards the ceiling.
- Basically, it is performed after the Sarvangasana from one to five minutes.
- To exit, first bring the hands on the back again, lift back in the Sarvangasana while exhaling, then slowly roll down on the back, or simply roll out from the pose for an exhalation.

LIMITATIONS

Not recommeneded for people with diarrhea, neck injury, pregnant and menstruating women.

People with asthma and high blood pressure, practise using leg-props.

BENEFITS

- Calms the mind and stimulates the abdominal organs as well as the thyroid gland.
- Stretches the shoulders and the spine.
- Relieves symptoms of menopause.
- Reduces stress and fatigue.

MOVING ON

LOVEOLOGY
Mahesh Natarajan

(The author is a counsellor with InnerSight)

HAVE you noticed how the world we live in tends to romanticise the love that is forever, and treat moving on with suspicion? The image of the lover waiting for the loved one even if they are with other people, or no longer even alive, is celebrated while someone moving on is often questioned on whether it is too soon, or if the new person is too similar or too different from the previous love.

Even in Harry Potter, we have Snape longing for the one woman he loved well before Harry Potter was born, and even if resentful, supporting Potter for the sake of that love which was not really reciprocated. It was central to the Harry Potter mythology that Severus Snape carried that love forever, and died for it in the end. It leaves us with the question: what would have happened if Severus Snape had moved on after discovering Lily has fallen in love with James before he could even profess his love for her? What if he and, say, Dolores Jane Umbridge, had met and got together? It may have been disastrous for Harry, but would that have been a happier ending for Severus Snape?

The romanticisation of not moving on might be great for storylines for novels and movies, but in real life, not moving on is a source of great pain and suffering. Often, the stories try to play up not moving on as a life spent in homage for the love they experienced, but is that really necessary or healthy?

Moving on is not easy, especially with all the pressure of elevating one's love to these dizzying levels where the love is made into something divine and eternal. Living in the memory of a love, even one that never materialised or one that was very short lived, can be an enticing choice, when in reality, if such love had been a long-term reality, chances are that it would have been an ordinary, everyday kind of love with all its ups and downs, instead of the lofty, heavenly status we give to a love that was lost. Moving on doesn't mean any disrespect for the love one cherished. It is only enlarging one's life to make space for new possibilities

In addition, if we did move on, it also means we then have to take on the responsibility of actually living for ourselves with all the effort it entails, and that can be more daunting than living in the shadow of what could have been. Moving on is an act of responsibility to oneself and we may not want to take that on.

Ultimately, moving on is a choice, as much as it might seem an impossible choice to make, or a very uncomfortable one. When we recognise that, maybe we would make space for it and allow ourselves the time and opportunity to get on with our lives. Loving oneself comes in many forms, and sometimes, allowing ourselves to move on is one of them.

Singing as a Team Sport

TUNING IN
Bindu & Ambi Subramaniam

(The authors run SaPa - the Subramaniam Academy of Performing Arts)

THE world over, choir and choral singing have been popular for centuries. From singing in school choirs to community music groups, singing together has always been seen as fun. Professional choirs are in demand for concerts, recordings, and film scores because the effect of many voices singing together – either in unison or in harmony, can create powerful soundscapes, and a feeling very different from a solo voice.

There are several recent studies that have shown how singing together has many benefits, not least among them creating a sense of belonging. Interestingly, during choir singing, the heartbeats of the singers are likely in sync, which is not necessarily the case before or after singing.

There are a number of measurable positive physiological effects from group singing in any form. It calms heart rates, boosts endorphins, and improves lung function. It has interestingly been found to increase pain threshold and reduce the need for pain medication in some cases.

Group singing has been seen to increase immunoglobulin and the body's ability to fight infections. In some studies, cancer patients show an improved immune response after a few choir rehearsals. While music is never an alternative to medical treatment, the benefits of group singing are many.

While looking at how group singing can positively affect one's mental state, it has been found to boost positive mood, lift self-esteem, and fight depression. This is a major reason why singing in a school choir or practising together in a group can be so beneficial for children and teens. It can also help seniors who struggle with isolation and mental health issues.

It has been found that group singing enhances one's sense of purpose and meaning, and even increases sensitivity towards others.

People singing in a group have reported a higher sense of well-being than even those who sing solo. Singing together creates a feeling of belonging, which makes people feel good, thereby improving their health and satisfaction. Singing together also creates a feeling of synchronising with others. This synchronisation makes people feel good, which increases, social cohesion, which in turn further increases synchronisation.

So, whether you enjoy bhajan groups or caroling, antakshari or 80s ballads, find a group and sing to your heart's content!

Salman Khan: Ram Charan will make a cameo in Kisi Ka Bhai Kisi...

CE FEATURES

Apart from Salman, the film also features Venkatesh Daggubati, Pooja Hegde, Jagapathi Babu, Shehnaaz Gill, and Raghav Juyal, among others. Salman made the announcement about Ram Charan's cameo at the trailer launch of Chiranjeevi's God Father in Mumbai.

Salman, who will be seen in a cameo in God Father, said he was shooting for Kisi Ka Bhai Kisi Ki Jaan in Hyderabad with Venkatesh, when Ram Charan met him and said that he wanted to be in the same frame as Salman and Venkatesh. Salman said that initially he thought the actor was joking.

"So, we were shooting in Hyderabad, and Venky (Venkatesh) was there with me during shooting. He (Ram Charan) came to see me. He said I want to do this. He said I want to be with you and I want to be with Venky in the same frame. I thought he was just kidding. I told him we will talk about it tomorrow. Tomorrow, he got his costume, and he was there before us. I said 'What are you doing here?' He said 'I want to be here'. I said, 'we love you and we want you to be here. But is it okay for you to be here?' He said yeah. That's how he came into the film and we had a great time shooting," Salman said at the God Father trailer launch, as per a Pinkvilla report.

Kisi Ka Bhai Kisi Ki Jaan is an action film directed by Farhad Samji. It is produced by Salman Khan Films. Salman had shared a teaser and title logo of the film last month.
